PREFACE

A critical element in the compilation of a series as long as that of the General Index to the Commons Journals—of which this is the nineteenth volume—is its consistency from decade to decade. At the same time, however, the decennial index must respond to changes in the House’s procedure and to alterations in the indexing of the sessional volumes. There have therefore been many changes over the years in the General Indexes. For example, the volume produced in 1914 dropped much of the detail of the progress of individual bills, and from 1931 the Accounts and Papers laid before the House ceased to be noticed in the General Index. Change, of a greater or lesser degree, has particularly characterised the analytical or digest headings (that is, those concerned with large topics such as Public Bills or Resolutions). The presentation of any one volume must therefore reflect a balance between consistency with previous General Indexes and adaptation to the clarity in presentation of the current practice of the House.

This General Index has responded not only to the changes made in the House’s procedures in the 1980’s but also to the radical revision of the sessional indexes introduced in mid-decade. These alterations gave much greater weight to the analytical element in the sessional index, and as a corollary the larger categories within which procedural events were indexed were broken into smaller distinct groups. The General Index could not ignore this development, which accounts for many of the changes in this Index when compared with its predecessors. It is expected, however, that any loss in consistency between successive General Index volumes will be amply offset by a continuing alignment where appropriate between the General Index and the sessional indexes on which it draws.

It would not be helpful to elaborate the distinctions between this volume and others in the series. Broadly, however, the following are noteworthy. The logic of the change of 1914 referred to above has been followed by the arrangement of Bills of every type, delegated legislation and Resolutions in the appropriate analytical heading, arranged either by Session or (where practicable and more sensible) alphabetically across the decade. All that is lost so far as the index is concerned are the long titles of the Bills and certain essentially fugitive details on the parliamentary career of Statutory Instruments. Following the same principle, Resolutions come to by the House are no longer set out in extenso, except where there may be a need to consider one in relation to another, as is the case in the entries concerning Members’ disqualification or parliamentary salaries and allowances, for example. Finally, details on Statutory Instruments considered by the House or by a Committee are collected in one analytical heading, with that title, and not placed with Committees or arranged by the generic heading appearing on the document itself.

The structure and many of the details of this General Index follow the established pattern. Where change has been introduced, it is hoped that it has led to an improved presentation.

W. R. McKay
Clerk of the Journals.

DIVISIONS

I. Tellers.

II. Questions not decided (or not decided in the Affirmative)

1. Fewer than forty Members take part in Divisions.
2. Fewer than one hundred Members vote in favour of the closure.

III. Other Proceedings.

I. TELLERS

Two Members appointed as Tellers for the Ayes, but no Member being willing to act as Teller for the Noes, the Speaker declared that the Ayes had it, [1980-81] 63, 286; [1981-82] 27; [1983-84] 91, 362, 735; [1984-85] 419; [1985-86] 397; [1987-88] 292.

The Chairman (in Committee) declared that the Ayes had it, [1980-81] 67; [1984-85] 627.

Two Members appointed as Tellers for the Ayes but no Member being willing to act as second Teller for the Noes, the Speaker declared that the Ayes had it, [1980-81] 138; [1985-86] 112, 298; [1986-87] 394.

No Members being willing to act as Tellers for the Ayes, the Speaker declared that the Noes had it, [1987-88] 147.

II. QUESTIONS NOT DECIDED (OR NOT DECIDED IN THE AFFIRMATIVE)

1. Fewer than forty Members take part in Divisions:

The Speaker declared that the Question was not decided:

The Chairman (in Committee) declared that the Question was not decided, and left the Chair; and the Speaker resumed the Chair and, a Member having reported accordingly from the Committee, declared that the Committee stood over until the next sitting of the House, [1986-87] 367.

2. Fewer than one hundred Members vote in favour of the Closure:

[see also CLOSURE III].

III. OTHER PROCEEDINGS

The House proceeded to a Division, and the Speaker stated that he thought the Ayes had it; on his decision being challenged, he called upon the Members who supported and who challenged his decision to rise in their places, and declared that the Ayes had it, a stated number of Members only having challenged his decision, [1983-84] 732, 733; [1987-88] 540, 541-549.

A Member having complained the previous day that in a Division he had passed into the Aye lobby to vote, but that the Tellers had left the door before he had reached it, the Speaker directed the Clerk of the House to correct the error by adding the name of the hon. Member to the Ayes and stating the number in the Journal accordingly, [1984-85] 486.

It appearing that several Members were confused about whether a Division was on the Closure or the Main Question, the Speaker directed the House to proceed again to a Division, [1985-86] 34.

The Tellers at the No Lobby not appearing at the Table to announce the numbers, the Speaker directed the Serjeant at Arms to ascertain from the Tellers why they were not in a position to do so; the Serjeant at Arms having made his report, the Deputy Speaker instructed him to direct the Tellers at the No Lobby to return to the Table, [1985-86] 386.

Tellers came to the Table; it appeared that they were unable to agree upon the numbers voting with the Noes; the Speaker directed the House to proceed again to a Division, [1981-82] 343.

[for Speaker's casting vote, the numbers in a Division being equal, see SPEAKER X,3].

Motion, That, in the opinion of this House, the annual amount of a Member’s pension should continue to be one-sixtieth of relevant terminal salary for each year of reckonable service, and that Members should have a new option of limited duration to purchase additional reckonable sevice by lump sum, or by fixed instalments payable as a deduction from salary over a period of five years; Amendment proposed, in line 3, to leave out the words 'continue to be one-sixtieth' and insert the words 'be one-fortieth' instead thereof; Amendment not made; Main Question agreed to, 156.

Motion, That, in the opinion of this House, the salaries payable to Members of this House in respect of service on and after 13th June 1981 should be at the following yearly rates—

Motion, That, in the opinion of this House, the limits specified in the Resolution of this House of 5th June 1981 in relation to the allowances payable in connection with a Member’s office, secretarial and research expenses should be raised so as to make the limits—

(a) in paragraph (a) of the Resolution (allowance in respect of aggregate amount of general office expenses on secretarial and research assistance), £8,752 for the year ending 31st March 1983 and £8,820 for any subsequent year; and

Resolution, That, in the opinion of this House, the facilities available to the spouse of a Member of this House for free travel in accordance with the Resolutions of this House of 7th April 1971 and 22nd July 1975 on journeys within paragraph (a) or (b) of the said Resolution of 7th April 1971 should

For the purposes of this Resolution a Member’s children shall be taken to include step-children, adopted children, foster children and any other child living as one of the Member’s family, 394.

Motion, That this House—

(a) welcomes the Report of the Select Committee on Members’ Salaries which was ordered by this House to be printed on 17th February 1982;

(b) agrees with the recommendation in that Report that a review of Members’ pay be conducted by the Review Body on Top Salaries once during the fourth year of each Parliament and that, where a shortened Parliament precludes this, the Review Body should carry out a new review not later than four years after the rates of salary consequent on the previous review first became payable;

(c) agrees with the view expressed in that Report that, between such reviews, Members’ salaries should be adjusted annually by reference to increases in outside salaries, but does not accept the recommendation that there should be an annual automatic adjustment by reference to figures taken from the Department of Employment’s New Earnings Survey;

(d) is of opinion that Her Majesty’s Government should instead, in the period between one such review and the next, move annual motions to effect changes in Members’ salaries and in so doing should be guided by the average change in the rates of pay of appropriate groups in the Public Service over a relevant period.

Amendment proposed, to leave out from ‘1982’ to the end of the Question and add ‘agrees with the recommendations of that Report’, instead thereof;
Amendment not made.

Another Amendment proposed, in line 12, to leave out from the word ‘payable’ to the end of the Question and add the words “(c) agrees with the view expressed in that Report that, between such reviews, Members’ salaries should be adjusted annually by reference to increases in outside salaries as indicated in the nearest percentile in the Department of Employment’s New Earnings Survey; (d) does not accept the view in that Report that the question of Members’ pensions and severance payments should be subsumed under the general heading of “Pay” to await consideration in the context of the next general review of Members’ pay, but is of the opinion that, in the light of the anomalies inherent in the present severance arrangements and the increased insecurity attached to the role of a Member, the Top Salaries Review Body be requested to undertake an urgent review of pension and severance arrangements and make recommendations accordingly”, instead thereof; Amendment not made; Main Question agreed to, 394.

[1983-84] Motion, That, in the opinion of this House, the salaries payable to Members of this House in respect of service on and after 13th June 1983 should be at the following yearly rates—

paragraph (2); and

2. £8,800 for Officers of this House and Members receiving a salary under the Ministerial and other Salaries Act 1975 or a pension under section 26 of the Parliamentary and Other Pensions Act 1972;

Amendment proposed, to leave out from the word ‘House’ to the end of the Question and add the words “(a) the salaries payable to Members of this House should be: (i) £18,500 for Members not falling within sub-paragraph (ii); and (ii) £13,875 for Officers of this House and Members receiving a salary under the Ministerial and other Salaries Act 1975 or a pension under section 26 of the Parliamentary and Other Pensions Act 1972; (b) the implementation of this recommendation should be by means of five equal increments, to be effective from 22nd June 1983, 1st January 1984, 1st January 1985, 1st January 1986 and 1st January 1987 respectively; and (c) the salary of a Member should from 1st January 1988 be linked to that paid to a civil servant at the point in the grade of national salaries which is receiving £18,500 on 1st January 1987 and the parliamentary salary of Members within paragraph (a)(ii) above should be seventy-five per cent. of that figure: provided that this paragraph would not have effect unless approved by a Resolution of the House during the first three months of each Parliament’, instead thereof;

Amendment made to the proposed Amendment in line 13 by leaving out the words ‘1st January 1987’ and inserting the words ‘13th June 1983’, instead thereof; Amendment, as amended, made; Main Question, so amended, agreed to;

Resolution, That, in the opinion of this House—

(a) the salaries payable to Members of this House should be:

(i) £18,500 for Members not falling within sub-paragraph (ii); and

3.—(1) Any claims for financial assistance under this Resolution are to be made to the Accounting Officer of the House; and a party claiming such assistance shall—

(a) furnish to the Officer with a statement of the facts on which the claim is based;
IV. Incidental and Miscellaneous Proceedings—cont.

2. Financial Assistance to Opposition Parties, &c.—cont.

(2) Sub-paragraph (1)(c) above shall not apply in relation to financial assistance given on or after 1st January 1988 in respect of expenses incurred before that date by the Liberal Alliance or the SDP Alliance.

4.(1) In the case of any year in which there is a General Election—

(a) the period ending immediately before the day of the Election, and

(b) the period beginning with that day, shall be treated for the purposes of this Resolution as separate years, but the maximum amount of financial assistance available to any party in respect of any period so treated shall be reduced correspondingly.

(2) In this Resolution “year” means a year beginning with 1st January.

II. MATTERS STAND REFERRED TO COMMITTEE OF PRIVILEGES PURSUANT TO RESOLUTION [18th March 1986]

The Speaker reports at the beginning of new Parliaments that he has laid claim to all the Commons' Ancient Rights and Privileges, which Her Majesty has confirmed, [1983-84] 4; [1987-88] 2.

House agrees with the Committee of Privileges on its Second Report of Session 1984-85 (H.C. 555) and declares the Recommendation contained in paragraph 14(iv) of the Summary of Conclusions and Recommendations to have had effect from the beginning of the current Session, which Recommendation was that a Special Report from a Select Committee stating that a leak had caused substantial interference or the likelihood of such should automatically stand referred to the Committee of Privileges, [1985-86] 252.

Motion, That this House agrees with the recommendations of the Committee of Privileges in its First Report (H.C. 376); Question amended by leaving out from "House" to end and adding "believes that it would be proper to punish an honourable Member who disclosed the Report of a Select Committee before it had been reported to the House; but considers that it would be wrong to punish a journalist merely for doing his job"; Question, so amended, agreed to [1985-86] 374.

Motion, That this House confirms the order of the Speaker on 22nd January prohibiting the use of any room under the control of the House of Commons for the showing of a film, or the playing of a sound track thereof, which was the subject of an injunction by the High Court; and continues that prohibition in force so long as the injunction remains in effect; Question amended, by leaving out from 'That' to end and adding 'Mr. Speaker's ruling of 22nd January, relating to the showing of a film, be referred to the Committee of Privileges'; Question, so amended, agreed to, [1986-87] 136.
