Sir John Yardes Buller reported from the Select Committee on Petitions for Private Bills, to whom two Petitions complaining of non-compliance with the Standing Orders, in the case of the Petition for the Birmingham and Gloucester Railway (Worcester Branch and Cheltenham Extensions) Bill, were referred; That the Standing Orders had not been complied with, inasmuch as the Notices did not state the names of the right owners, lessees or occupiers, and no application had been made to any of the parties to confer upon the Midland Railway Company the undertaking by the said Bill to sell and transfer to the said Midland Railway Company the undertaking by the said Bill to be authorized; and that no Notice of such application had been made to in the London Gazette and Newspapers, published in the counties of Derby, Leicester and Nottingham, within which counties the said Midland Railway extends, and is partly situate.

And inasmuch as the property numbered 13 in the parish of Arkley, in the township of Bentley-with-Arsey, is described in the Book of Reference as pond, such property being pasture field.

Also inasmuch as in the parish of Fishlake, township of Sykehouse, in the properties numbered 39, a fence is omitted; that in the Book of Reference it is described as 1 property in the ownership of Ralph Creyke, and in the occupation of Joseph Bellwood, whereas the fence is owned by Richard Pearson, and occupied by Thomas Ellin.

And inasmuch as a field adjoining numbers 42 and 52, in the parish of Fishlake, in the township of Sykehouse, is not numbered on the Plans, nor referred to in the Book of Reference.

And inasmuch as the Reverend Alexander Cooke is the owner of the properties numbered 48 and 49, in the said last-mentioned parish, and that no application had been made to him in respect of such properties.

Also inasmuch as a garden, numbered 95 on the said Plans, is described in the Books of Reference as in the occupation of Robert Tyler, whereas it is in the occupation of John Hall; also as property numbered 97, is described in the said Books of Reference as being in the occupation of Robert Tyler, whereas John Hall is the occupier thereof; also a property numbered 113, is described in the Books of Reference as being in the occupation of Benjamin Dorrett, whereas William Dorre is the occupier thereof, and no application had been made to him in respect of such property.

Also inasmuch as property numbered 114, is described as being in the occupation of William Dorre, whereas Benjamin Dorrett is the occupier thereof.

Also inasmuch as property numbered 122 on the said Plans, is described as being the property of George Higgs, whereas Thomas Fisher is the owner thereof, and no application had been made to him in respect thereof.

Also inasmuch as property numbered 282, is described as being leased in the occupation of Samuel Little, whereas Jeremiah Trigg is the occupier thereof.

Also inasmuch as property numbered 192, is not described as being leased by Joseph Mils, who is the lessee thereof, and no application had been made to him in respect thereof.

Ordered, That the Report be referred to the Select Committee on Standing Orders.

Sir John Yardes Buller reported from the Select Committee on Petitions for Private Bills, to whom a Petition complaining of non-compliance with the Standing Orders, in the case of the Petition for the Shrewsbury and Grand Junction Railway Bill, was referred; That the Standing Orders had not been complied with, inasmuch as a certain fence within the limits of deviation, is not described on the said Plan between Nos. 10 and 11, in the parish of Atcham, being about 40 yards in length.

Also inasmuch as the rate of inclination of the line between each change of gradient, is not correctly marked on the longitudinal Sections, because between the points 30. 1. 3. and 30. 6. 14., the inclination is stated horizontal, whereas the correct inclination is 1 in 662, as measured on the Section.

Also inasmuch as the datum line drawn on the said Section is not horizontal, nor the same throughout the whole length of the work, in the following instances:

Vol. 100.

Mr. Strutt reported from the Select Committee on Petitions for Private Bills, to whom a Petition complaining of non-compliance with the Standing Orders, in the case of the Petition for the Ormskirk and Preston Railway Bill, was referred.

That the Standing Orders had not been complied with, inasmuch as in the township of Liverpool, it appears that Upper William-street, numbered 229, on the ground Plan deposited with the Clerk of the Peace, was numbered 229 on the enlarged Plan; but that it appears that the tail of the 9 has been omitted from the general Plan by accident.

In the township of Farnham, the properties numbered 65 and 56 on the general Plan, and in the Book of Reference deposited with Clerk of Peace and Private Bill Office, are erroneously numbered 69 and 70 on the enlarged Plan.

In the township of Greatstone Linacre, the line of Railway as delineated on the enlarged Plans, No. 7, does not correspond with the line of Railway on the general Plan, the line of Railway on the general Plan being about 40 feet more to the eastward, or further from Booth Village than the line on the enlarged Plan.

And inasmuch as in the township of Sandwich, east of subdivision boundary, the line of Railway as delineated on the enlarged Plan No. 7, does not correspond with the line of Railway laid down on the general Plan, the line of Railway shown on the enlarged Plan being upwards of 80 yards more to the south-east than the line on the enlarged Plan, including within the limits of deviation buildings and other property not included within the limits of deviation on the general Plan; but that the said buildings and property are numbered and delineated in the general Plan, and are in the Book of Reference.

In the township of North Moors, No. 91, the limits of deviation on the enlarged Plan do not correspond with the limits of deviation in the general Plan; and inasmuch as in the general Plan one of the limits of deviation cuts through a certain building numbered 80, and in the enlarged Plan it includes the same buildings, and passes through the adjoining garden; but the said building and garden are in the Book of Reference.

And inasmuch as in the township of Liverpool, No. 143 is improperly described in the said Book of Reference as a dwelling-house near a building, whereas 143, as shown on the enlarged Plan, No. 5, is a mere court.

In the township of Bootle-cum-Linacre, Nos. 54 and 72 respectively are described in the said Book of Reference as a public road instead of a private road; but that the owners and occupiers had been served with Notice.

And inasmuch as a plantation in the township of Maghull, about 4 yards wide, between Nos. 77, 79 and 78, is not numbered on the Plan, or mentioned in the Book of Reference; but that the owner and occupier of the plantation had Notice for the adjoining lands, though not specifically for the said plantation.

In the township of Oughton, No. 120 is delineated on the general Plan as one inclosure, whereas it is divided into two inclosures, which are not delineated or shown on the Plan; but the said inclosures are delineated and numbered in the said Plans, and described in the Books of Reference by one number, and as one inclosure and field.

In the township of Lathom, an inclosure used as an orchard, adjoining Nos. 128 and 126, is not numbered on the Plan or referred to in the Book of Reference, though a small corner is cut by the limits of deviation.

In the township of Crows Nest, a field lying between Nos. 115 and 117, is not numbered on the Plan deposited with the Clerk of the Peace, or mentioned in the Book of Reference, and no Notice has been served on the owner or occupier in respect of the said inclosure in same, and as one inclosure and field, and no separate application has been made to John Brown, as lessee of the said inclosure.

And inasmuch as in the township of Longton No. 20, as more particularly described in the Notices served upon the owners and occupiers, as an arable field.

And inasmuch as in the township of North Meols, a croft of the westerly side of No. 74, is not numbered as an inclosure on the General Plan as one inclosure is divided into two inclosures by a fence, a portion of less than 20 perches being separated by posts and rails, which are not delineated or shown on the Plan; but the said inclosure and field, and no separate application has been made to John Brown, as owner of such field and footpath, and is so stated in the Books of Reference.

And inasmuch as the township of Scansbrick consists of two divisions on east of the sub-division boundary, and the other west of the same, but it appears that such written applications as have been served upon the several persons east of the sub-division boundary (50 in number), do not state to which of the two divisions of the said township of Scansbrick the property therein mentioned or referred to is situate; but the distinction is made in the Books of Reference, and on the Plans.

Ordered, That the Report be referred to the Select Committee on Standing Orders.

Mr. Strutt reported from the Select Committee on Populations for Private Bills, to whom a Petition, complaining of non-compliance with the Standing Orders, in the case of the Petition for the Liverpool, Ormskirk and Preston Railway, was referred; That the Standing Orders have not been complied with, inasmuch as in the Book of Reference deposited with the Clerk of the Peace, Edward Stanley is stated to be the occupier of No. 34, in the township of Lathom, whereas the right of devision was in the ownership of Sir Robert Hope, and Lord John Septimus was stated to be the occupier of No. 34, in the same township, whereas the same was occupied by Richard Holland; and Lord Skelmersdale is stated to be the occupier of Nos. 142, 144 and 145 in the same township, whereas Peter Pennington occupied the same on and prior to the 30th day of November last; and no application in writing has been served on the occupier in respect of the foregoing properties.

And inasmuch as the written applications served upon the owners, lessees and occupiers do not specially describe the property to which they refer, by reason of the deposited Plans and Book of Reference containing two sets of consecutive Numbers, each beginning with No. 1, in each of the several townships of Ormskirk, Burscough and Lathom, one of them referring to the main line, and the other to the branch line. And inasmuch as the datum line is not referred to in the Schedule to such written applications respectively; but it appeared that the main line and the Branch were distinctly headed both in the Plans and Books of Reference, and that separate Notices were served for each.

Township of Langton (Blackburn Branch): In the notice served upon John Smith, Sir Thomas Joseph de Trafford, Baronet, is stated to be the owner, and John Brown occupier, of fields and footpaths Nos. 11 and 12, whereas the said John Brown is the owner of such field and footpath, and is so stated in the Books of Reference.

Ordered, That the Report be referred to the Select Committee on Standing Orders.

Mr. Strutt reported from the Select Committee on Petitions for Private Bills, to whom a Petition, complaining of non-compliance with the Standing Orders, in the case of the Petition for the Liverpool, Ormskirk and Preston Railway (Skelmersdale Branch), was referred; That the Standing Orders have not been complied with, inasmuch as in the Book of Reference deposited with the Clerk of the Peace, Edward Stanley is stated to be the occupier of No. 34, in the township of Lathom, whereas the right of devision was in the ownership of Sir Robert Hope, and Lord John Septimus was stated to be the occupier of No. 34, in the same township, whereas the same was occupied by Richard Holland; also Lord Skelmersdale is stated to be the occupier of Nos. 142, 144 and 145 in the same township, whereas Peter Pennington occupied the same on and prior to the 30th day of November last; and no application in writing has been served on the occupier in respect of the foregoing properties.

And inasmuch as the written applications served upon the owners, lessees and occupiers do not specially describe the property to which they refer, by reason of the deposited Plans and Book of Reference containing two sets of consecutive Numbers, each beginning with No. 1, in each of the several townships of Ormskirk, Burscough and Lathom, one of them referring to the main line, and the other to the branch line. And inasmuch as the datum line is not referred to in the Schedule to such written applications respectively; but it appeared that the main line and the Branch were distinctly headed both in the Plans and Books of Reference, and that separate Notices were served for each.

Ordered, That the Report be referred to the Select Committee on Standing Orders.

Mr. Strutt reported from the Select Committee on Petitions for Private Bills, to whom a Petition, complaining of non-compliance with the Standing Orders, in the case of the Petition for the Liverpool and Brighton Railway (Dorking Branch), was referred; That the Standing Orders had not been complied with, inasmuch as in the Notices in the London and Brighton Railway at Redstone Hill to Dorking, without without specifying any alternative line, deviation or Branch Railway; but the deposited Plans show two lines of Railway for the distance of about two miles and a half, and it does not appear that there is any clause in the Bill requiring the promoters to confine themselves to one or either of the said lines.

And insasmuch as the names of the following persons, who are and were, on and previously to the 30th day of December last, respectively, the owners or reputed owners, lessees or reputed lessees and occupiers of lands or property upon the line of Railway or within the limits of lateral deviation, do not appear in the said Book of Reference in respect of such property, nor was any application in writing made to them, or some of them, on or before the 31st December last, in respect thereof.

And insasmuch as 5 miles 5 furlongs upon the south line there is a curve of about 42 chains radius, which is not noted upon the said Plan.

And insasmuch as the datum line is stated to be on the Section, 200 feet below the level of the rails of the London and Brighton Railway at the point of junction of the same with the south-eastern Dover Railway, whereas upon the Section of the Branch or deviation line in the town of Reigate, the datum line is stated to be 200 feet above the said point.

And insasmuch as upon the said Section deposited at Lambeth, of the parishes or deviation lines from A. to D. in the town of Reigate, the extreme heights of embankments or extreme depths of cuttings are not stated.

And insasmuch as at about 4 miles 3 furlongs and 80 links upon the said Plan, the main line of Railway divides into two Branches, or alternative or deviation lines, described upon the Plans as north and south line respectively, whereas upon the Section of the south line it is shown to diverge from the said main line at 4 miles, 3 furlongs, 4 chains and about 20 links.

And insasmuch as there is a Section given of a Branch deviation line stated upon the said Sections to be from A. to D., but the length of such Section from A. to D. does not agree with the distance shown upon the said Plan from A. to D.

And insasmuch as upon the commencement of the said Section, the said Branch or deviation line, the level of the rails is shown to be upon the present surface of the ground, whereas upon the general Sections at that same point, the line of the rails is shown to be in a cutting of about 20 feet.

And insasmuch as a Section is given of another Branch or diverging line stated upon the said Section from B. to C., but the length of such Section from B. to C. does not agree with the distance shown upon the said Plan from B. to C.

And insasmuch as upon the commencement of the said Section of the said diverging line from B. to C., the level of the rails is shown to be in a cutting.

And insasmuch as upon the said Sections of the two deviation lines from A. to D. and from B. to C. the heights of the embankments and the depth of cuttings are not stated, nor is the vertical measure given from the datum line to the level of the rails.

And insasmuch as in forming the estimate of the Subscription Contract, the calculation included the one only for the two diverging or alternative lines above mentioned, and it does not appear that there is any Clause in the Bill requiring the Promoters to confine themselves to one or either of the said lines.

And inasmuch as the said Plans are further incorrect, and in certain instances, inasmuch as they measure different lengths; the 2d and 8th furlong of the 4th mile on the said Plans are not correctly marked thereon, inasmuch as they measure 960 links only or thereabouts; the 1st furlong of the 5th mile on the said Plans is not correctly marked thereon, inasmuch as it measures 1,030 links, or thereabouts; the 4th furlong of the same mile is not correctly marked on the said Plans, inasmuch as it measures 970 links or thereabouts; the 6th, 7th and 8th furlongs of the 6th mile are not correctly marked on the said Plans, inasmuch as they measure different lengths, namely, the 6th furlong measures 11 chains, the 7th furlong measures 9 chains and the 8th furlong 1,030 links; the 2d, 3d, 4th, 5th and 6th furlongs of the 7th mile are not correctly marked on the said Plans, as they measure different lengths, namely, the 7th furlong measures 11 chains, the 8th furlong 1,030 links, the 9th furlong 970 links, the 10th furlong 1,070 links; the 1st, 5th, 6th and 8th furlongs of the 8th mile are not correctly marked on the said Plans, as they measure different lengths, namely, the 1st furlong 970 links, the 4th furlong 970 links, and the 8th furlong 1,070 links; the 1st, 5th, 6th and 8th furlongs of the 8th mile are not correctly marked on the said Plans, as they measure different lengths, namely, the 1st furlong 970 links, the 4th furlong 1,020 links, the 8th furlong 1,090 links, and the 8th furlong 1,090 links; the 2d, 3d and 4th furlongs of the said last-mentioned mile are not correctly marked on the said Plans, inasmuch as they measure respectively 970 links only, or thereabouts; the 1st and 4th furlongs of the 9th mile are not correctly marked on the said Plans, as they measure different lengths, namely, the 1st furlong 1,040 links and the 4th furlong 960 links; the 2d and 6th furlongs of the same mile are not correctly marked on the said Plans, inasmuch as they measure 1,060 links each; the 6th and 7th furlongs of the 10th mile are not correctly marked on the said Plans, inasmuch as they measure 1,030 links or thereabouts; the 1st and 2d furlongs of the 11th mile are not correctly marked on the said Plans, as they measure different lengths, namely, the 1st furlong 1,040 links and the 2d furlong 1,020 links.

And inasmuch as between the 7th furlong of the 10th mile and the 1st furlong of the 11th mile, measured on the said Plans, there is a curve of about 16 chains, which is not noted in the said Plans in miles and chains.

And inasmuch as at or about the 6th furlong of the 9th mile, the vertical measure from the main line to the line of Railway is stated to be 88 51, whereas whereas the same measures, according to the scale upon which the said Sections are stated to be laid down, 86 57, or thereabouts.

And inasmuch as it is not stated in the Section what alteration is intended in the present level or rate of inclination of the following public carriage and turnpike-roads marked on the Sections, namely, at the distance of 1 mile 66 chains on the Ashford Road; at the distance of 2 miles 64 chains on the same road; at the distance of 4 miles 53 chains on the road to Feltham; at the distance of 4 miles 49 chains on the road to Hanworth; at the distance of 6 miles 49 chains on the road described as "public lane, by Duke of Wellington Inn," at the distance of 7 miles 6 chains on road described "turnpike-road," at the distance of 8 miles 3 chains in Pope's Villa Road; at the distance of 8 miles 22 chains in Twickenham-street; at the distance of 8 miles 52 chains on the Ixworth Turnpike-road, and at the distance of 9 miles 20 chains on the same road; but the cross Sections are referred to in all these cases. And inasmuch as the height of the Railway under the said Plan, and certain public carriage-roads marked in the said Section, is not marked thereon in figures at the crossing thereof, viz. —

At the distance of 6 miles 12 chains.

And inasmuch as the said Section does not show the surface of the ground marked on the Plans, nor correspond therewith, in the following instances (that is to say); a certain occupation-road in the parish of Staines, marked in the said Plans at the distance of 35 40 links within the first mile, is noted on the said Section at the distance of 40 chains within the said mile; a certain public road in the parish of Staines, marked on the said Plan at the distance of 48 60 links within the first mile, is noted on the said Section of the distance of 52 20 links within the same mile; a public carriage-road in the parish of Ashford, marked on the said Plans at the distance of 61 60 links within the 2d mile, is noted on the said Section at the distance of 64 60 links within the same mile; a public lane in the parish of Hanworth, marked in the said Plans at the distance of 8 chains within the 5th mile, is noted on the said Section at the distance of 8 60 links within the same mile; a certain public carriage-road in the parish of Hanworth, marked on the said Plans at the distance of 8 chains within the 6th mile, is noted on the said Section at the distance of 6 60 links within the same mile; a certain public carriage-road in the parish of Hampton, marked on the Plans at the distance of 1,430 links within the said last-mentioned mile, is noted on the said Section at the distance of 1,220 links within the same mile; a public road in the parish of Hampton, marked on the Plans at the distance of 41 chains within the said 7th mile, is noted on the said Section at the distance of 4,250 links within the same mile; a certain public road in the parish of Hampton, marked on the said Plans, at the distance of 7,920 links within the said 7th mile, is noted on the said Section at the distance of 6,860 links within the same mile; a turnpike-road in the parish of Teddington, marked on the Plans at the distance of 7,060 links within the 8th mile, is noted on the said Section at the distance of 580 links within the same mile; a public carriage-road in the parish of Teddington, marked on the said Plans at the distance of 23 20 links within the said last-mentioned mile, is noted on the said Section at the distance of 30 chains within the same mile; a public carriage-road in the parish of Twickenham, marked on the said Plans at the distance of 4 20 links, within the 9th mile, is noted on the said Section at the distance of 280 links within the same mile; a public road, called the Kew Road, in the parish of Richmond, marked on the said Plans at the distance of 2,340 links within the 11th mile, is noted on the said Section at the distance of 2,500 links within the same mile.

And inasmuch as the boundaries between the parishes of Ashford and Laleham, which are marked on the said Section within the 6th and 7th furrows of the 2d mile, are quite out of place, and do not correspond with the boundaries between such parishes as shown on the said Plans.

And inasmuch as the cross Sections, being 11 in number, are not correct in form, and do not clearly explain the nature of the alterations which are intended to be made in the present level or rate of inclination of any turnpike-road or carriage-road, in datum line or line of "levels of rails" being shown on such cross Sections, nor the words "levels of rails," "present surface of road," "surface of road when altered" written thereon.

And inasmuch as in the Book of References, No. 59, in the parish of Teddington, is erroneously described as a "cottage and orchard" whereas it ought to have stated "orchard," there being no cottage.

And inasmuch as a certain property appearing on the Plans as between the property numbered 60 and 61, appearing as a separate inclosure, is not numbered in the said Plans.

And inasmuch as the Books of Reference do not contain the names of the several owners, lessees and occupiers of the properties situated in the parishes wherein, or hereinafter mentioned, and numbered in the said Books of Reference for such parishes, as follows:

Ordered, That the Report be referred to the Select Committee on Standing Orders.

Mr. Aglionby reported from the Select Committee on Petitions for Private Bills, to whom a Petition and a Bill complaining of non-compliance with the Standing Orders in the case of the Petition for the Portarlington and Tullamore Railway, was referred; that the Standing Orders had not been complied with, inasmuch as no Notices were given in the London Gazette or county newspapers, nor were Plans, Sections and Books of Reference deposited with the Clerks of the Peace, Post-masters or in the private office, inasmuch as no Notices were given in the London Gazette or county newspapers, nor were Plans, Sections and Books of Reference deposited with the Clerks of the Peace, Post-masters or in the private office.
Mr. Aglionby reported from the Select Committee on Petitions for Private Bills, to whom several Petitions complaining of non-compliance with the Standing Orders, in the case of the Petition for the Eastern Union and Harwich Railway and Pier (No. 2.) Bill, were referred; that the Standing Orders had not been complied with, forasmuch as the Plan relative to the said intended Railway which has been deposited at the office of the Clerk of the Peace for the county of Essex, which is the plan deposited in the Private Bill Office, is not a duplicate of the Plan deposited in the Private Bill Office, although they are in the Book of Reference, although they are in the Book of Reference.

And inasmuch as in the former Plan there are 10 numbers of property more than in the latter, and inasmuch as in no one instance do the numbers denoting the position of the property within the limits of deviation correspond; and inasmuch as in the former Plan the distances and furlongs are only marked, whereas in the latter they are marked with numbers.

And inasmuch as the Book of Reference deposited with the Clerk of the Peace for the county of Essex, does not contain the true names of
of the owners or reputed owners, lessees or reputed lessees and occupiers of the lands and properties described on the said Plan upon the line of the said intended Railway, and within the limits of deviation laid down thereon, in the following instances:

And inasmuch as the said Plan and Book of Reference so deposited with the Clerk of the Peace as aforesaid, are also incorrect, inasmuch as upon the said Plan No. 6, in the said parish of Dovercourt, which is shown on the said Plan as marsh land, whereas the same number is described in the said Book of Reference as a ditch or fleet; No. 10, in the said parish of Dovercourt, which is shown on the said Plan as house or buildings, gardens and orchards, whereas the same number is described in the said Book of Reference as arable; No. 12, in the said parish of Dovercourt, which is shown on the said Plan as an occupation-road, whereas the same number is described in the said Book of Reference as ditch or fleet; No. 18, in the said parish of Dovercourt, which is shown on the said Plan as arable, whereas the same number is described in the said Book of Reference as a ditch or fleet; No. 19, in the said parish of Dovercourt, which is shown on the said Plan as a ditch or fleet, whereas the same number is described in the said Book of Reference as salt-marshes.

And inasmuch as no application in writing in the form required by the Standing Orders of the House, was made, on or before the 31st day of December last, to the owners or reputed owners, lessees of reputed lessees or occupiers of the properties hereinafter specified, in respect of the taking or interference therewith, although such properties are included within the limits of deviation laid down in the said Plans of the Railway, deposited with the said Clerk of the Peace, as hereinafter mentioned:

datum line at such points respectively, there is an error of upwards of 28 feet in the said Sections.

And inasmuch as the Elevations relating to the said intended Railway do not correctly represent or show the surface of the ground, and the intended level of the proposed Railway and Works, throughout the whole, nor do the said Sections correctly state the height of the Railway over or under the surface of any turnpike-road, public carriage-road, navigable river, canal or Railway in the following instances, namely: a navigable river forming the boundary of the parishes of Frodsham and Runcorn, No. 230, in the parish of Frodsham, and No. 1, in the parish of Runcorn, is marked or shown on the Sections as 50 feet from the surface of the river being upwards of 4 furlongs and 3 chains from the terminus at Chester; the extreme height of the Railway under the surface of the ground is not correctly marked on the Sections for the embankment at about 6 miles 5 furlongs 6 chains from the terminus at Chester; the extreme height of the Railway under the surface of the ground is not correctly marked on the Sections for the embankment at about 2 miles 3 furlongs 6 chains from the terminus at Chester; the extreme height of the Railway under the surface of the ground is not correctly marked on the Sections for the cutting at 1 mile 3 furlongs 6 chains from the terminus at Chester; the extreme height of the Railway over the surface of the ground is not correctly marked on the Sections for the embankment at 4 miles 5 furlongs 3 chains from the terminus at Chester.

And inasmuch as having reference to the surface of the ground as the same actually exists in relation to the surface of the rails, as marked or shown upon the said Sections, the description of the Section of the line deposited and of the greatest height of embankment or depth of cutting is erroneously and inaccurately stated in the following Notices, that is to say:

Parish of Thornton-le-Moors: No. 13, in the Notice served upon the Earl of Shrewsbury and John Molyneux, it is stated to be an embankment of 2 feet, whereas in fact it will be 6 feet cutting; No. 3, in the Notice served upon the Earl of Shrewsbury and Joseph Gervard, it is stated to be an embankment of 2 feet, whereas in fact it should be 6 feet cutting; No. 16, in the same Notice, it is stated to be an embankment of 7 feet, whereas in fact it will be 2 feet cutting; No. 28, in the same Notice, the embankment is stated to be 9 feet, whereas it will in fact be 2 feet; No. 40, in the Notice served upon the Earl of Shrewsbury and Peter Dawson, it is stated an embankment of 7 feet 6 inches, whereas it will in fact 11 feet cutting; No. 47, in the same Notice, the cutting is stated to be 6 feet, whereas in fact it will be 15 feet; No. 25, in the Notice served upon the Earl of Shrewsbury and John Wright, the embankment is stated to be 9 feet, whereas the same will in fact be 2 feet; No. 1, in the Notice served upon the Earl of Shrewsbury and Samuel Mason, it is stated to be an embankment of 2 feet, whereas the same will in fact be 4 feet cutting; No. 61, in the Notice served upon the Earl of Shrewsbury and William Hamilton, the cutting is stated to be 14 feet, whereas the same will in fact be 10 feet; No. 96, in the Notice served upon the Earl of Shrewsbury and Thomas Peacock, the cutting is stated to be 24 feet 6 inches, whereas the same will in fact be 20 feet; No. 2, in the Notice served upon upon John Weaver in respect of a public carriage-road, it is stated to be an embankment of 2 feet, whereas the same will in fact be 2 feet cutting; No. 75, in the same Notice, and in respect of another public carriage-road, the cutting is stated to be 18 feet 6 inches, whereas the same will in fact be 22 feet 6 inches. And inasmuch as several turnpike-roads and public carriage-roads respectively, in which alterations are intended or will be necessary, such alterations are not stated in the Section, and the same roads are not numbered on the Sections, and cross Sections to such numbers are not added to explain the nature of such alterations more fully, in the following instances, that is to say: A public carriage-road in the parish of Piemontall, No. 37 on the Plans; a public carriage-road in the parish of Thornton-le-Moors, No. 5, on the Plans; a turnpike-road in the parish of Thornton-le-Moors, No. 7, on the Plans; a public carriage-road in the parish of Thornton-le-Moors, No. 75, on the Plans.

And inasmuch as several turnpike-roads and public carriage-roads described on the Plans and numbered and referred to in the Sections, in which alterations in the present level or rates of inclination of such turnpike-roads and carriage-roads respectively are intended, the cross Sections relating thereto have been incorrectly drawn on the intended alterations thereof, have been incorrectly stated, in the following instances: In cross Section No. 1, the present surface of the public carriage-road, No. 33, in the parish of Frodsham, on the Plans is represented as shown to be level, whereas in fact the same is an irregular surface, varying in inclination from 1 in 27 to 1 in 44; in cross Section No. 2, the present surface of the public carriage-road, No. 46, in the parish of Frodsham, on the Plans, is represented or shown to be level, whereas in fact the same is an irregular surface, varying in inclination from 1 in 27 to 1 in 111; in cross Section No. 4, the intended surface of the public carriage-road, No. 48, in the parish of Runcorn, on the Plans, is altered so as to be 18 feet under the surface of the rails, whereas the same in fact ought to be represented as being 18 feet over the surface of the rails.

And inasmuch as the datum line does not correctly exhibit thereon the distances in miles and furlongs from one of the termini, in the following instances, namely; on the Section deposited with the Clerk of the Peace of the county of Chester, the 10th mile is placed at a distance of 5 furlongs only from the 9th mile, and the 11th mile is placed at a distance of 10 furlongs from the 10th mile, and at a distance of 9 furlongs from the 12th mile; there are no furlongs marked on the datum line of the Sections deposited with the Clerk of the Peace of the county of the city of Chester, between 2 miles and 8 furlongs from the terminus of the said Railway at Chester to 4 miles and 4 furlongs from the same terminus.

And inasmuch as the Plan does not exhibit thereon the distances in miles and furlongs from one of the termini in the following instances, namely; the 14th mile is not marked on the Plan deposited with the Clerk of the Peace of the county of Chester. The distances on the datum line are not marked in miles and furlongs to correspond with those on the Plans, where altered, is represented as being 18 feet over the surface of the rails.

And inasmuch as a memorandum of the radius at a distance of 9 furlongs from one of the termini, in the following instances, namely: on the Section deposited with the Clerk of the Peace of the county of Chester, the proportion or rate of inclination commencing at 7 miles 5 furlongs and 2 chains from the terminus at Chester, is incorrectly described in the second sheet of the Plans; on the plan deposited with the Clerk of the Peace of the county of Chester and the Grand Junction Railway (being less than 1 mile), is incorrectly stated on the said Plans to be a radius of 15 chains.

And inasmuch as the proportion or rate of inclination between each change of the gradient or inclinaion is not correctly marked upon the Sections, in the following instances, namely; on the Section deposited with the Clerk of the Peace of the county of the city of Chester, the proportion or rate of inclination between 4 miles and 5 furlongs and 2 chains from the terminus at Chester, is incorrectly described as 1 in 227; on the Section deposited in the Private Bill Office, the proportion or rate of the same inclination is incorrectly described on the second sheet as 1 in 227, and in the third sheet as 1 in 321.

Ordered, That the Report be referred to the Select Committee on Standing Orders.

Mr. Brotherton reported from the Select Committee on Petitions for Private Bills, that from two Petitions for the Sunderland, Durham and Auckland Union Railway Bill, were referred; That the Standing Orders had not been complied with, inasmuch as the Plans deposited with the Clerk of the Peace for the county of Durham, and in the Private Bill Office, do not accurately describe the lands and property through which the said Railway is proposed to be made, in the following instances: a certain field numbered 17 upon the said Plans, and described thereon as being in the township of Sunderland Bridge, is in fact situate in the township of Byers Green; a certain field or stripe of land by the side of the River Browney, numbered 27 upon the said Plans, and described thereon as being in the township of Eelvet Barony, is in fact in the township of Newfield; certain fields numbered 8 and 11 upon the said Plans, and described thereon as being in the township of Newfield, are in fact in the township of Byers Green; the House called Boat House upon the said Plans, and shown by them to be standing in a field numbered 1 thereon, and thereon described as being in the township of Willington, is not to be found in the position in which it is shown upon these Plans; the said Boat House being in fact situate in the field numbered 7 on the said Plans in the township of Byers Green; a portion of the said Plans described thereon as being in the township of Byers Green, and as lying between certain lands described upon the said Plans as being in the townships of Stockley and Willington, is not a Plan of the lands as they are now fenced, or as they were fenced on or before the 30th day of November 1844, the said Plans describing and including fields within the limits of lateral deviation which in fact do not exist, and the limits of lateral deviation including fields, a house called the Boat House and a garden belonging thereto, which the lines delineated upon the said Plans have the least resemblance of; certain property numbered 17 upon the said Plans, and described thereon as being in the township of Byers Green, is in fact divided upon the said Plans as being but one inclosure, whereas the same is divided by a fence into two inclosures, one of which is crossed by the centre line of the proposed work and the other, being within the limit of deviation; certain property described upon the said Plans as being in the township of Brichester, and numbered 2 thereon, is divided by a fence into two inclosures, whereas by the said Plan it is shown to be but one inclosure; the road numbered 19 upon the said Plans, and described thereon as being in the township of Byers Green, and which passes through the field numbered 12, and is marked bridle road, is a public carriage-road from Byers Green to Willington.

And inasmuch as the said Plans do not exhibit thereon a correct view of the radius of the following curves, the radii of which are under 1 mile in length; the curve between the distances 18 miles and 4 furlongs, and 18 miles and 6 furlongs; the curve between the distances 21 miles and 3 furlongs, and 21 miles and 5 furlongs; the curve at or near the terminus at Newton Cap Bridge.

And inasmuch as the following lands or properties, although either upon the line of the intended continuation or extension of the main line of the said Railway, as laid down upon the Plans thereof which have been deposited with the Clerk of the Peace for the county of Durham, and in the Private Bill Office, or within the limits of lateral deviation therefrom as defined upon the said Plans, are not numbered upon the said Plans not referred to in the Books of Reference deposited therewith, that is to say; No. 10 adjoining those numbered 10 and 12 upon the said Plans, in the township of Eelvet Barony; a field on the south side of No. 15, upon the said Plans, in the townships of Brandon and Byshottles; a farm-house and out-buildings described upon the said Plans as being situate in a field numbered 4, in township of Newfield; 3 fields adjoining the fields numbered 11, 12, 13 and 15 upon the said Plans, in the township of Newfield; a field adjoining the river Wear, and a field numbered 1 upon the said Plans, in the township of Bichester; the county bridge over the River Browney, on the road from Darlington to Durham, in the townships of Eelvet Barony and Brandon and Byshottles.

And inasmuch as the Books of Reference deposited with the said Clerk of the Peace and in the Private Bill Office do not correctly describe the names of the owners, lessees and occupiers of the following properties, inasmuch as the names of the several persons following, who were respectively the owners, lessees and occupiers of such properties respectively, on or before the 30th day of November last, are not mentioned in the said Books of Reference, that is to say; Her Majesty's Justices of the Peace acting in the case of the Petition for the Sunderland, Durham and Auckland Union Railway Bill, were not correctly described in the Books of Reference deposited therewith, that is to say; No. 19, in the township of Brandon and byshottles, a farm-house and out-buildings described thereon as being situate in the township of Byers Green, numbered 12 upon the said Plans, and shown by them to be standing in a field numbered 1 thereon, and thereon described as being in the township of Willington, is not to be found in the position in which it is shown upon these Plans; the said Boat House being in fact situate in the field numbered 7 on the said Plans in the township of Byers Green; a portion of the said Plans described thereon as being in the township of Byers Green, and as lying between certain lands described upon the said Plans as being in the townships of Stockley and Willington, is not a Plan of the lands as they are now fenced, or as they were fenced on or before the 50th day of November 1844, the said Plans describing and including fields within the limits of lateral deviation which in fact do not exist, and the limits of lateral deviation including fields, a house called the Boat House and a garden belonging thereto, which the lines delineated upon the said Plans have the least resemblance of; certain property numbered 17 upon the said Plans, and described thereon as being in the township of Byers Green, is in fact divided upon the said Plans as being but one inclosure, whereas the same is divided by a fence into two inclosures, one of which is crossed by the centre line of the proposed work and the other, being within the limit of deviation; certain property described upon the said Plans as being in the township of Brichester, and numbered 2 thereon, is divided by a fence into two inclosures, whereas by the said Plan it is shown to be but one inclosure; the road numbered 19 upon the said Plans, and described thereon as being in the township of Byers Green, and which passes through the field numbered 12, and is marked bridle road, is a public carriage-road from Byers Green to Willington.

erty, that is to say: 12 of the Majestys's Justices of the Place acting in and for the county of Durham, in respect of the county bridge, erected and now standing over or across the River Browney, in the townships of Elvet Barony, and Brandon and By-shottles, at or near 17 miles and 1 furlong upon the said Plans; William Russell, Esquire, as the owner, and Thomas Crofton, as the occupier of the two fields in the townships of Brandon and Byshottles, one of which is numbered 27 on the said Plans, the other is on the south side of a field numbered 15 upon the said Plans, in the said township; the Surveyors of the highways of the township of Brandon and By-shottles in respect of a certain highway embankment from Sunderland Bridge to Brandon, numbered 7 upon the said Plans, and described as being in the township of Brandon and Byshottles; and in respect of a certain public bridle-road leading from the last-mentioned road towards Brandon, and numbered 13 in the same township; Nicholas Crofton Hukel, as the occupier of No. 2 upon the said Plans, in the township of Brandon; the Surveyors of the highways of the township of Brandon, in respect of a certain public carriage-road leading from Tadhoe to Branchepe; the Surveyors of the highways in the township of Stockley, in respect of a certain public carriage-road, Whitworth to Branchepe, numbered 1 upon the said Plans, in the township of Stockley; and also in respect of a certain public bridge-road in the said township, numbered 6 upon the said Plans, and described in the Books of Reference as an occupation-road; John Ralph Fen-wich, Esquire, as the owner, and Mary Pringle as the occupier of a house and garden situate in a field numbered 7 in the township of Byers Green; and the Surveyors of the highways for the township of Byers Green, in respect of a certain public carriage-road leading from Byers Green to Willington, numbered 19 upon the said Plans, and described thereon and in the Books of Reference as being a bridle-road;
the Reverend George Fielding, as the owner, and Robert Emerson as the occupier of a certain field adjoining those numbered 11 and 12, in the township of Neufeld; John Snowball as the occupier of two fields numbered 17 upon the said Plans, in the township of Neufeld; the Honourable Henry Barrington as owner, and James Robson as occupier of certain fields in the township of Harwick, numbered 9, 10, 13, 14 and 17 upon the said Plans;
the Right Reverend Edward Lord Bishop of Durcertain field in the township of Bishopstone, adjoining a field numbered 1 and the flour of Brandon as bered 2, 4, 5 upon the said Plans; the Honourable Maria Jones Bowes Barrington as owner of a certain field numbered 8 upon the said Plans in the said township of Newton Cap.

And inasmuch as in the following instances the Sections deposited in the said Township of Byers Green, parish of Saint Oswald, as the occupier of a field numbered 28 in the township of Byers Green, and described in the Books of Reference as an occupation-road; John Ralph Fenwick, as the owner, and the Honourable Maria Jane Bowes Barrington as the occupier of a field numbered 1 and the River Wear, as shown in the said Sections; the road leading from Whitworth to Branchepe, which appears upon the said Plans between the distances 19 miles and 9 furlongs and 19 miles and 6 furlongs; the road leading from Byyers Green to Willington, which appears upon the said Plans between the distances 21 miles and 2 furlongs and 21 miles and 3 furlongs and is resented by a bridle-road, which is in fact a township highway.

And inasmuch as the public carriage-roads from Whitworth to Branchepe, and from Bywers Green to Willington, which are not shown in the said Sections, nor is the height of the intended Railway under or over the surface thereof shown thereupon, nor are there any cross Sections shown of the same.

And inasmuch as from the position which the said public carriage-roads occur in the Plan of the said continuation or extension of the said Railway, it appears that it will be necessary to alter the levels of the said roads, and no cross Section is shown,
explaining the nature of such alterations more clearly.

And inasmuch as the proportion or rate of inclination is not marked upon the Sections between the last change of gradient at or near 24 miles 2 furlongs and 1 chain, and the termination at or near Neatn Cap Bridge.

And inasmuch as on the Section deposited in the Private Bill Office of the Branch Railway to Con-si-street, Sunderland, the height of the Railway over the road to Sea Beach, is not marked in figures at the crossing, and the extreme height over or under the surface of the ground is not marked for every embankment and cutting.

And inasmuch as in the Section deposited in the Private Bill Office of the Brandon or Western Branch a vertical measure from the datum line to the line of Railway is not marked in feet and inches at the change of gradient between 1 mile 3 furlongs and 1 mile 4 furlongs.

And inasmuch as the following omissions occur
in the Section of the owner upon the Plans of the said
Roads, and no cross Section is shown, it appears that it will be necessary to alter the levels of the said roads, and no cross Section is shown,
explaining the nature of such alterations more

clearly.

And inasmuch as in the Section deposited in the Private Bill Office of the Brandon or Western Branch a vertical measure from the datum line to the line of Railway is not marked in feet and inches at the change of gradient between 1 mile 3 furlongs and 1 mile 4 furlongs.

And inasmuch as the following omissions occur
in the Section of the owner upon the Plans of the said
Roads, and no cross Section is shown, it appears that it will be necessary to alter the levels of the said roads, and no cross Section is shown,
explaining the nature of such alterations more

clearly.

And inasmuch as in the Section deposited in the Private Bill Office of the Brandon or Western Branch a vertical measure from the datum line to the line of Railway is not marked in feet and inches at the change of gradient between 1 mile 3 furlongs and 1 mile 4 furlongs.

And inasmuch as the following omissions occur
in the Section of the owner upon the Plans of the said
Roads, and no cross Section is shown, it appears that it will be necessary to alter the levels of the said roads, and no cross Section is shown,
explaining the nature of such alterations more

clearly.

And inasmuch as in the Section deposited in the Private Bill Office of the Brandon or Western Branch a vertical measure from the datum line to the line of Railway is not marked in feet and inches at the change of gradient between 1 mile 3 furlongs and 1 mile 4 furlongs.

And inasmuch as the following omissions occur
in the Section of the owner upon the Plans of the said
Roads, and no cross Section is shown, it appears that it will be necessary to alter the levels of the said roads, and no cross Section is shown,
explaining the nature of such alterations more

clearly.

Ordered, That the Report be referred to the Select Committee on Standing Orders.

Mr. Brotherton reported from the Select Committee on Petitions for Private Bills, to whom a Petition was laid, complaining of non-compliance with the Standing Orders, in the case of the Petition for the Harwich (No. 2) and Eastern Counties Junction Railway (No. 2) Bill, was referred; That the Standing Orders had not been complied with, inasmuch as the Plan and Book of Reference relative to the said intended Railway, which has been deposited at the office of the Clerk of the Peace for the county of Essex, is incorrect, in the following instances; viz.: As a certain road or chaseway in the parish of Saint Botolph East, in the county of Essex, being upon the line of the said intended Railway, and lying between certain property in the said parish, numbered 16 on the said Plan, and certain other property, numbered 18 on the said Plan, is not numbered on the said Plan, so as to be referred to in the said Book of Reference; a certain field in the said parish of Arleidge, abutting upon property respectively numbered 6 and 8 on the said Plan, in the same parish, on the upper or northern side thereof, the same being on the line of the said intended Railway; a certain field in the said parish of Arleidge, abutting upon the northern side of the said Railway, and lying between other fields in the said parish, numbered 6 on the said Plan; a certain field in the said parish of Arleidge, within the limits of deviation, laid down on the said Plan, and lying upon the fields respectively numbered 6 and 8 on the said Plan, in the same parish, on Arleidge, on the upper or northern side thereof; a certain field in the same parish of Arleidge, upon the line of the said intended Railway, lying between a certain field in the said parish, numbered 99 on the said Plan; a certain other field in the same parish, numbered 22 on the said Plan; a certain land or ground in the same parish, the limits of deviation, laid down on the said Plan, and lying between certain premises in the same parish, numbered 16 in the said Plan, and a certain orchard in the same parish, numbered 17 on the said Plan; a certain field in the parish of Arleidge, within the limits of deviation, laid down on the said Plan, and lying between certain premises in the same parish, numbered 16 in the said Plan, and a certain orchard in the same parish, numbered 17 on the said Plan; a certain field in the parish of Arleidge, within the limits of deviation, laid down on the said Plan, and lying between certain premises in the same parish, numbered 16 in the said Plan, and a certain field in the same parish, numbered 43 on the same Plan, on the lower or southern side thereof; a certain field in the parish of Brackfield, in the county of Essex, within the limits of deviation, laid down on the said Plan, and lying between a certain field in the same parish, numbered 11 on the said Plan, and a certain other field in the same parish, numbered 13 on the same Plan; a portion of a field in the parish of Great Oakley is numbered on the Plan deposited in the Private Bill Office, No. 1, and also in the sealed-up Plan deposited with the Clerk of the Peace for the county of Essex, but in the open Plan deposited with the Clerk of the Peace for the county of Essex, the same portion of the field has no number; a certain parcel of land in the parish of Ramseym, in the county of Essex, within the limits of deviation, laid down on the said Plan, and a certain field in the same parish, numbered 4 on the said Plan, and certain premises in the same parish, designated as "wet house," on the said Plan; a certain field in the said parish of Ramseym, within the limits
And inasmuch as a certain field in the parish of Dovercourt, lying between Nos. 44 and 55, within the limits of deviation, marked on the Private Bill Office Plan, in the Office of the Private Bill Office, nor on the Clerk of the Peace Plan, nor on the sealed-up Plan, but on the two latter Plans the limits of deviation have been altered so as to exclude that field.

And inasmuch as the said Plans and Book of Reference so deposited as aforesaid with the said Clerks of the Peace for the county of Essex, is also incorrect, inasmuch as certain lands and premises in the parish of Greenstead, in the county of Essex, have not been described in such Book of Reference in relation to such lands.

And inasmuch as no application in writing or otherwise for such notice of intention to take such last-named lands and premises or any part thereof has been made to the owners or reputed owners, lessees or reputed lessees and occupiers thereof, respectively, or any of them, as required by the Standing Orders of the House.

And inasmuch as the said Book of Reference deposited with the Clerk of the Peace for the county of Essex, as aforesaid, as also incorrect, in the following instances; as certain parcel of land numbered 32 in the said parish of Ardleigh, on the said Plan, and a public highway in the same parish, numbered 3 on the said Plan, and a certain cottage and garden in the same parish, numbered 121 on the said Plan, and abutting upon a certain place in the said parish, numbered 118 on the said Plan, on the northern side thereof; certain land or ground in the said parish of Dovercourt, within the limits of deviation, laid down on the said Plan, and abutting upon the lands and premises in the said parish, respectively numbered 125 and 130 on the said Plan; a certain field in the said parish, numbered 131 on the said Plan; a certain field in the parish of Saint Nicholas, Harwich, within the limits of deviation laid down on the said Plan, and lying between a field in the said parish, and numbered 3 on the said Plan, and a certain field or ditch forming the parish boundary between the said parish of Saint Nicholas, Harwich, and the aforesaid parish of Dovercourt; a field in the said parish of Saint Nicholas, Harwich, within the limits of deviation, laid down on the said Plan, and abutting upon certain fields in the parish, and numbered 3 and 4 on the Plan, on the northern side thereof, being the side toward the River Stour; certain buildings and premises in the parish of Saint Nicholas, Harwich, within the limits of deviation, laid down on the said Plan, and lying on the upper or northern side of a certain field in the same parish, numbered 4 on the same Plan.

And inasmuch as the line originally denoting the limits of deviation in the said parish of Little Oakley, has been erased on the Plans deposited in the Private Bill Office, and in the sealed-up Plan deposited with the Clerk of the Peace for the county of Essex, a new line being marked, denoting the intended limits of deviation, but to the Plan deposited for public inspection with the Clerk of the Peace for Vol. 100.
said piece of land on or before the 30th November 1844; a certain field in the said parish of Ardleigh, within the limits of deviation, laid down on the said Plan, No. 61, on the said Plan, inasmuch as in the said Book of Reference, Sarah Smith is stated to be the lessee and occupier thereof, whereas Robert William Lugar was on or before the 30th of November 1844, the lessee and occupier thereof.

And inasmuch as no application in writing in the form set forth in the Appendix to the Standing Orders of the House marked (A.), or in any other form, was made on or before the 31st day of December last, as required by the said Standing Orders, of the owners or reputed owners, lessees or reputed lessees and occupiers of lands or houses intended to be taken for the purposes of the said Railway, or situate within the limits of lateral deviation defined upon the Plan, deposited as aforesaid, either by delivering the same personally, or by leaving the same at their several usual places of abode, or, in their absence from the United Kingdom, with their agents, inasmuch as no such application was made to the said Gordon William Kelly, William Norfolk, Robert William Lugar, as owners, lessees and occupiers in respect of their respective interests, as hereinafter stated, in the several properties hereinbefore set forth.

And inasmuch as the said Plan deposited with the said Clerk of the Peace is also incorrect and not prepared in accordance with the said Standing Orders, inasmuch as the same does not exhibit thereon the distance in miles and furlongs of the line of the said intended Railway from one of the termini, inasmuch as the miles and furlongs marked on the said Plan and intended to designate the distances on the said intended Railway do not commence from one of the termini, but from or from a point near to a certain road in the parish of Saint Botolph East, in the said county of Essex, and lying between two fields numbered 16 and 18, in the same parish, on the same Plan.

And inasmuch as the distances are not marked in miles and furlongs on the said Plan, inasmuch as between the 3d mile and the 4th mile of the said intended Railway, as marked on the said Plan, the furlongs are incorrectly marked thereon, there being 41 separate furlongs marked between such 3d and 4th mile; the distances on the said intended Railway do not commence from one of the termini, but from or from a point near to a certain road in the parish of Saint Botolph East, in the said county of Essex, and lying between two fields Nos. 16 and 18, in the same parish, on the said Plan.

And inasmuch as the distances are not marked in miles and furlongs on the said Plan, inasmuch as between the 3d mile and the 4th mile of the line of the said intended Railway, as marked on the said Plan, the furlongs are incorrectly marked thereon, there being 41 separate furlongs marked between such 3d and 4th mile; also with reference to the 5th and 6th miles of the line of the said intended Railway, as marked on the said Plan, inasmuch as between those lines, the furlongs are incorrectly marked on such Plan, there being only 5 furlongs marked thereon between such 5th and 6th miles.

And inasmuch as such Plan is further defective and incorrect, inasmuch as a memorandum of the radius of every curve not exceeding 1 mile in length is not noted on the said Plan in miles and chains, in the following instances: 47, between about the 5th and 4th furlongs of the 7th mile, the 1st furlong of the 8th mile as marked on the Plan, there is a curve of 50 chains radius, or thereabouts, not so noted; 48, between about the 3d and 4th furlongs of the 9th mile and the 1st and 2d furlongs of the 10th mile, as marked on such Section, there is a curve of 24 chains, or thereabouts, not so noted; 49, between about the 2d and 3d furlongs of the 15th mile and the 6th and 7th furlongs of the same mile, as marked on the said Plan there is a curve of 40 chains radius, or thereabouts, not so marked; 50, between about the 4th and 7th furlongs of the 14th mile and the 8th furlong of the same mile, as marked on the said Plan, there is a curve of 40 chains radius not so noted; 51, between about the 8th furlong of the 15th mile and 15th furlong of the 15th mile, there is a curve of 12 chains radius, or thereabouts, not so noted; 52, between about the 2d furlong beyond the 15th mile and the termination of the line ending in the land in the parish of Saint Nicholas, Harwich, No. 53, on the said Plan, there is a curve of 12 chains radius, or thereabouts, not so noted; 53, between about the 2d furlong beyond the 15th mile and the termination of the line ending in the land in the parish of Saint Nicholas, Harwich, as marked on the said Plan, there is a curve of 12 chains radius, or thereabouts, not so noted.

And inasmuch as the said Plan is also defective and incorrect, and is not properly drawn, inasmuch as between the 6th furlong of the 4th mile of the line of the said intended Railway, as shown on such Plan, and the 2d furlong of the 5th mile of the same line on the same Plan, the measurement of distance on the said line between those points does not agree with the scale laid down on such Plan, such distance being shorter by about 7 chains, according to the said scale laid down upon the said Plan, than as the furlongs marked between those points on such Plan; also with reference to the line on such Plan between the 2d furlong of the 12th mile and the 6th furlong on the 13th mile as noted on the same Plan, the distance between those points being shorter by about 1 chain according to the scale laid down upon the said Plan, than as noted by the furlongs marked between those points on such Plan.

And inasmuch as the Section of the said Plan deposited with the said Clerk of the Peace for the county of Essex, is not drawn on the same horizontal scale with the said Plan, inasmuch as between the 7th furlong of the 4th mile and the 6th furlong of the 6th mile, as marked on such Plan, the same does not agree in miles and furlongs with the Section relating to the same portion, nor with the Plan and Section of the same portion of line deposited in the said Private Bill Office.

And inasmuch as the Plans and Sections deposited at the Private Bill Office, and with the Clerk of the Peace for the county of Essex, are not copies of each other, as the datum horizontal line is not the same, and is not referred to any definite fixed point on either of the Plans.

And inasmuch as the said Section deposited with the said Clerk of the Peace is also incorrect, as a vertical marking from the datum line 'to the surface of the Railway over the surface of the ground there is not marked in feet and inches at each change of the gradient in the following instances: 61, at the commencement of the 1st furlong of the said Section, as marked on the said Section; 62, or between the 5th and 6th furlong of the 1st mile, as shown on such Section, or near the 4th furlong of the 2d mile, as shown on such Section, although at each of such points there is a change of gradient.

And inasmuch as on the said Section the height of the said intended Railway over or under the surface of the ground is not marked at each embankment and cutting, in the following instances: at the commencement of the 1st furlong, as marked on the said Section, the extreme height of the said intended Railway over the surface of the ground there is not so marked; 69, between the 1st and 2d furlongs of the 1st mile, as marked on such Section, the extreme height of the said intended Railway over the surface of the ground there is not so marked; 72, in the 3rd and 4th furlongs of the 4th mile, as marked on such Section, the extreme height of the said intended Railway over the surface of the ground there is not so marked; 74, between the 5th and 6th furlongs of the 6th mile, as marked on such Section, the extreme height of the said intended Railway over the surface of the ground there is not so marked.
so marked; 75, between the 7th and 8th furlongs of the same mile, as marked on such Section, the extreme height of the said intended Railway over the surface of the ground there is not so marked; 76, between the 4th and 5th furlongs of the 6th mile, as marked on such Section, the extreme height of the said intended Railway over the surface of the ground there is not so marked.

And inasmuch as the said Section is further incorrect, as the height of the Railway over or under the following turnpike-roads and of the turnpike-roads on the said Plans, Sections and Books of Reference deposited in the Private Bill Office as aforesaid, are not copies; 80, as the 4th, 5th, 6th, 7th and 6th furlongs of the 8th mile, and the 1st, 2d and 3d furlongs beyond the 15th mile, and marked on the said Plan deposited with the said Clerk of the Peace, do not agree with and are not in the same position as the corresponding furlongs marked on the said Plan deposited at the Private Bill Office; also with reference to the limit of deviation laid down on the said two Plans between 2 certain fields in the parish of Dovercourt respectively, numbered 45 and 49 on such Plans; also with reference to the limit of deviation laid down on the said two Plans between a certain field in the parish of Dovercourt, No. 134 on the said Plan, and a certain field in the parish of Saint Nicholas, Saxmundham, No. 52, on such Plans; also in the said parish of Ardleigh, the limits of deviation, certain lands in the same parish numbered 1 and 3, on the said Plan deposited with said Clerk of the Peace, is different in position to the deviation limit shown on the Plan deposited in the Private Bill Office.

And inasmuch as the said Book of Reference deposited with the Clerk of the Peace for public inspection, and produced as aforesaid, two heights from the datum line to the surface of the ground are shown or marked at or near the change of gradient occurring between the 5th and 6th furlongs of the 1st mile, as marked on such Section, whereas such heights are not shown or marked between the same points on such duplicate Section; and also inasmuch as the extreme height of the Railway over or under the surface of the ground as marked on the Section deposited with the Clerk of the Peace for public inspection, and produced by him as aforesaid, for every embankment and cutting, and especially in the following instances after specified, although the extreme height of the Railway over or under the surface of the ground is marked on the said duplicate Section deposited with the said Clerk of the Peace as aforesaid, in the same instances:

Distances as marked on the Section deposited with said Clerk of the Peace for public inspection, and produced by him in the month of March 1845 for such public inspection to parties applying to inspect the same, is not a true copy of the duplicate Section deposited with the said Clerk of the Peace on or before the 30th day of November 1844, and required to be sealed up and retained as aforesaid, inasmuch as on the Section deposited with the said Clerk of the Peace for public inspection, and produced as aforesaid, two heights from the datum line to the surface of the ground are shown or marked at or near the change of gradient occurring between the 5th and 6th furlongs of the 1st mile, as marked on such Section, whereas such heights are not shown or marked between the same points on such duplicate Section; and also inasmuch as the extreme height of the Railway over or under the surface of the ground as marked on the Section deposited with the Clerk of the Peace for public inspection, and produced by him as aforesaid, for every embankment and cutting, and especially in the following instances after specified, although the extreme height of the Railway over or under the surface of the ground is marked on the said duplicate Section deposited with the said Clerk of the Peace as aforesaid, at or near to which the extreme height is not so marked on the former, although it is so marked on the latter,

And inasmuch as the said Book of Reference deposited with the Clerk of the Peace for public inspection, and produced by him in the month of March 1845 for such public inspection to parties applying to inspect the same, is incorrect, as the extreme height of the Railway over or under the surface of the ground is not marked at each embankment and cutting in the following instances:

And inasmuch as it appears by the Bill annexed to the said Petition, that it is intended to apply for power in such Bill, enabling the Company thereby to be incorporated to purchase, and enabling the Eastern Counties Railway Company to sell and transfer a certain portion of Railway, being part of the said Clerk of the Peace, and required to be sealed up and retained as aforesaid, a vertical measure from the datum line to the line of the Railway is marked in feet and inches at or near the point marked "Junction with the Eastern Counties Railway," and being near the commencement of the Section of the said intended Railway at the Colchester end thereof, and at or near the commencement of the 1st furlong of the 1st mile, as exhibited on such datum line, whereas no such vertical measure is marked at the same point on the Section of such Railway deposited with the said Clerk of the Peace for public inspection.

A Petition of Krashaljee Saddauoo Bhiday, of Surat, with a Translation, was presented; and the Member who presented the same, having stated that it was a correct Translation, the said Translation was read; setting forth, That he formerly made a Petition to the English Government (i.e. the Court of Directors), complaining that the proper officers of the House of Commons have never asked Mr. Willoughby (Secretary) to give an answer not being given to the Petitioner, the Resident, who made a false report of the case, and Mr. Willoughby, Secretary to Government, by whom the matter was referred to the Resident, who petitioned the Council; and, consequently, the Petitioner is not doing justice to the Petitioner; the Petitioner's statements are found unworthy of credit, and answered accordingly. Now the Government have never asked Mr. Willoughby (Secretary), or Colonel Ovans (Resident), whether the papers from which they gave it as their opinion that Bhiday's (Petitioner's) evidence was false, they did not do so, this being the custom of the Government, and ordered the Petitioner to give a wrong decision; the Petitioner's request was disregarded, and they were questioned; and how was it likely that they, having a spite against him, would confirm what he had stated? This was not thought of by the Secretary, and he would be angry if it were brought to his notice, so he evidently intentionally gave an answer so as to quash further proceedings. How would a criminal confess his guilt on being first questioned? But when he is proved guilty by witnesses he finds it necessary to confess, for he would deserve punishment if he did not do so, this being the custom of the Government; petitioner requests that the Maharaj (present Raja) and Jagheerdars should be secured from fear of the consequences, and petitioner will prove, by documents, that it is the wish of the Maharaj and Jagheerdars to bring an action against Nathoo; and notwithstanding that petitioner has been asking for a new committee to be formed for two years past, yet the government listen to everything the Secretary and Resident write on the subject, without making any inquiries, or respecting the regulations, or what has been written about him from England, and refuse justice, screening themselves behind their power and influence; because Nathoo had arranged a private conference with the Resident, and the Resident prevented a fair inquiry by making them give such statements as he thought would conduces to Nathoo's safety, which they did through fear, and also Nathoo was allowed to make a statement, with a view to prevent the investigation from proceeding further; and petitioner bears that the Secretary, having prepared his plans, has or is about to write to the English government to prevent further inquiry; since it appears that this injustice has been done upon petitioner, what is the meaning of the security and recognizance and deposition that were taken from him? And from this the petitioner has suffered loss in reputation, and the witnesses in Nathoo's case owe to him and get him punished; but they cannot from the Maharaj (present Raja) and Jagheerdars to bring an action against Nathoo; and the investigation once begun; by this means the fraudulent conduct of Nathoo will be apparent to the Commission; and the Maharaj (present Raja) and the rest say that if they are questioned by the government employment take a bribe, or be unjust replies to petitions; should any person in England, even that is in his power to prevent or obstruct in the way of further investigations before any order came from England for the appointment of a committee; and that such an order be sent those members of the government implicated in the affair would fall into disgrace, and that therefore it was necessary to interfere to prevent the course of justice there as well as it had been done here (i.e. in India); and as soon as they (the Resident and Secretary) heard this they quoted the case of Nathoo by saying that the Maharaj was prevented obtaining justice, how could Bhiday (petitioner) possibly obtain it; so that the petitioner plainly perceived that every precaution was taken in this being the case, how is it possible to obtain justice? And, though it is the custom of company's officers to investigate cases without showing favour, what chance of justice has the petitioner if the government officers should be partial? It is the custom in the company's territory to have natives as well as Europeans in official employment, and if they are guilty of injustice or partiality, the party suffering thereby may petition for a revision of the case by another officer; this is the rule; but Mr. Willoughby has taken upon himself to make an unjust rule, instead, viz. that when a person has received justice from an officer, and appeals to Council for redress, the matter is referred again to the same functionary, who of course will not find fault with his own decision; and as implicit reliance is placed in the officer's statements, and the Council does without reflecting (exactly as the Secretary chooses to advise them), the petitioner gets for answer, "that his statement cannot be taken into consideration;" and so he becomes entirely raised by his answers. For this reason it is desirable that the government should determine, that when a complaint has been made against an officer he should be required to report once on the subject, and the report should be communicated to the complainant, and if he (complainant) should declare the report to government false, and request to have his case tried by another person, there is a regulation to authorize this being done; this being the case, and there being a complete understanding between Colonel Ovans and Mr. Willoughby, and with their assistance made, the Maharaj (present Raja), Yeswantrao, and others state what he liked, and that these fabricated statements were caused to be written and forwarded to England, as above stated, with a view of quashing further proceedings; but the story now told by Shahjee (present Raja), and Yeswantrao, and others, is that Nathoo has deprived them of a share in the business; and prevented a fair inquiry by making them give such statements as he thought would conduces to Nathoo's safety, which they did through fear, and also Nathoo was allowed to make a statement, with a view to prevent the investigation from proceeding further; and petitioner bears that the Secretary, having prepared his plans, has or is about to write to the English government to prevent further inquiry; since it appears that this injustice has been done upon petitioner, what is the meaning of the security and recognizance and deposition that were taken from him? And from this the petitioner has suffered loss in reputation, and the witnesses in Nathoo's case owe to him and get him punished; but they cannot...

to all persons alike; if the regulation had been altogetherto, why should Government fear to try Nathoo? and how did Government become so

Sir John Yarde Buller reported from the Select Committee on Petitions for Private Bills, to whom the Petition of Archibald Bulkeley, complaining of non-compliance with the Standing Orders, in the case of the Petition for the Epping Railway (No. 2.) Bill, was referred; that the Standing Orders had not been complied with, inasmuch as in the Book of Reference deposited with the Clerks of the Peace for the counties of Middlesex and Essex, William Campden and be stated to be the lessee of certain properties numbered 265 to 371 inclusive, in the parish of Bromley Saint Leonards, whereas John Tanner should have been inserted as such in that application was made to the said John Tanner in respect thereof.

And inasmuch as a piece of ground adjoining thereto, belonging to William and John Panham and Frances Abbott as owners, and John Tanner, lessee and occupier, is not numbered on the said Plan or described in the Book of Reference, nor has any application been made in respect thereof.

And inasmuch as a public house called The Little Drivers, in the parish of Saint Mary Stratford, is not shown upon the Plans or described in the Book of Reference.

And inasmuch as two fences in No. 109, Division (B.), and separating a garden, are omitted upon the said Plans, and that such garden is not numbered or described in the said Books of Reference.

And inasmuch as a property adjoining No. 123, Division (B.), is not numbered on the said Plans, or referred to in the said Books of Reference.

And inasmuch as the property numbered 142, Division (B.), is not referred to in the said Books of Reference, nor has any application been made to the owners and occupiers in respect thereof.

And inasmuch as various properties within the limits of deviation adjoining 141 and 104, Division (B.), on the said Plans, are not numbered thereon or referred to in the Book of Reference.

And inasmuch as certain properties adjoining 74, Division (C.), are not numbered on the said Plans, or referred to in the said Books of Reference.

And inasmuch as a property within the limits of deviation, adjoining No. 190, Division (C.), and No. 1, Division (D.), are not numbered on the Plan referred to in the Book of Reference, nor any application made to the owners and occupiers in respect thereof.

And inasmuch as a meadow adjoining Nos. 111 and 110, in the parish of Woodford, and through which the line passes, is not numbered on the Plan, nor described in the Book of Reference.

And inasmuch as No. 112, parish of Woodford, in the said Book of Reference described as plantation, and through which the line passes, is not shown upon the Plan.

And inasmuch as a fence abutting on the property No. 76, in the parish of Loughton, is omitted from the Plan, and is not marked in the Book of Reference.

And inasmuch as a fence separating the public road numbered 64 from property numbered 66, in the said parish of Loughton, is not shown on the Plan.

And inasmuch as a garden abutting on the property No. 110, in the parish of Loughton, is not shown on the Plan.

And inasmuch as a private road abutting on property numbered 41, in the said parish of Loughton, is not shown on the Plan or inserted in the Book of Reference; that the Plan deposited with the Clerk of the Peace for Middlesex does not correspond with the Book of Reference, inasmuch as a wood abutting on property numbered 110, in the parish of Theydon Bois, and a property numbered 109, in the same parish, and a road numbered 80, in the same parish, are not entered in the Book of Reference.

And inasmuch as in the Book of Reference deposited with the Clerk of the Peace for the county of Middlesex, No. 61, in the parish of Theydon Gower, is entered "meadow and footpath," whereas it should be "plantations and ponds," and No. 91 is stated to be an arable field, whereas it should be meadow.

And inasmuch as a meadow numbered 39, in the parish of Theydon Gardian, on the Plan, is not inserted in the Book of Reference.

And inasmuch as there are no limits of lateral deviation marked upon the Plan, between the 6th furlong of the 3d mile and the termination of the same mile, and that the properties lying within 100 yards of the line within the same points are not numbered upon the Plan or entered in the Book of Reference.

And inasmuch as a piece of ground in the parish of Saint Mary Stratford-le-Boar, numbered 69, in the Plan, has no corresponding number on the Book of Reference.

And inasmuch as the copy of the Plan deposited with the Clerks of the Peace is not a copy of the Plan deposited in the Private Bill Office, the piece of ground numbered 106, in the parish of West Ham, on the Plans deposited in the Private Bill Office, being numbered 108, on the Plans deposited with the Clerk of the Peace for the county of Middlesex.

And inasmuch as the said alternative line is shown to be 1 mile 5 furlongs, and upon the Plans the junction is shown at the 1st mile 3 furlongs; that the Section of the said alternative line is shown to be only 1 furlong in length on the Section, whereas according to the Plans it should be 1 furlong 9 chains; that the Section of the said alternative line is incorrect in the copy deposited with the Clerk of the Peace for the county of Middlesex, the datum line thereof being described as 93 feet below the level of junction with the main line, whereas it is drawn thereon at 80 feet or thereabouts; that the Section deposited in the Private Bill Office is incorrect, inasmuch as the surface of the ground of the alternative line at the point of junction is figured 12 feet below the level of the rails, whereas on the main line at the same point of junction it is figured 10 feet.

And inasmuch as the discrepancies following occur in the several instances, viz.:

And inasmuch as the Section deposited with the Clerk of the Peace for the county of Middlesex shows a change of gradient to occur at or near 2 miles 4 furlongs and 1 chain, and that the rate of inclination at such change of gradient is not marked thereon.

And inasmuch as the Section deposited in the Private Bill Office shows a change of gradient to occur at or near 2 miles 7 furlongs and 5 chains, and that the rate of inclination at such change is not marked thereon.

And inasmuch as the cross section No. 1, deposited in the Private Bill Office, is incorrectly drawn, inasmuch as the altered surface of the road is shown to be rising 1 in 37, whereas it is stated in figures to be 1 in 20.

And inasmuch as the cross section of the public road No. 4 in the Private Bill Office Plan, the rate of inclination of the present surface of the road is figured 1 in 22 instead of 1 in 60.

And inasmuch as the cross section of the public road No. 3 on the Private Bill Office Plan, the rate of inclination of the present surface of the road is figured 1 in 22 instead of 1 in 570.

Printed Papers (Second Report.)

No. 397.

Mr. Solicitor-General, by Order, reported from the Select Committee appointed to inquire into the Proceedings of the Action of Howard v. Gosset, and to report their Observations and Opinion thereupon to the House, and who were empowered to report from time to time; That they had further considered the matters to them referred; and had directed him to make a Report to the House, with an Appendix; and the Report of the Committee was read, as followeth;

Your Committee, in the discharge of the duty imposed on them by the House, think it advisable, in the first place, to state the circumstances out of which the Action of Howard v. Gosset arose, and the Proceedings in that Action.

In the course of an inquiry which was instituted into certain proceedings against Messrs. Hansard, the Printers of the House, it was considered necessary that Thomas Burton Howard, who had acted as attorney for John Joseph Stockdale, in an Action brought by him against the Messrs. Hansard, should be examined at the bar. Upon the examination of Howard, he submitted himself to the authority of the House, stating, "that if he had incurred its displeasure, he was deeply and honestly regretted it." Upon this submission, he was, by Order of the House, reprimanded by Mr. Speaker, and discharged. A very short time afterwards, he, nevertheless, commenced a fresh Action on behalf of Stockdale against the Messrs. Hansard; and this fact being communicated to the House, by Petition from the Messrs. Hansard, he was ordered to attend the House forthwith.

From the subsequent examination of the witnesses who were sent to serve the Order, there was reason to believe that Howard was wilfully evading the service; but the House, instead of coming immediately to a Resolution that this evasion of its Order was a contempt, followed the precedent entered in the Journals of the 31st March 1871, in relation to certain persons who, in like manner, had failed to obey the summons of the House. The entry having journals, be read at the table of the House, the House then ordered that Howard should be sent for in the custody of the Serjeant-at-Arms; and that Mr. Speaker should issue his Warrant accordingly. In pursuance of this Order, Mr. Speaker issued his Warrant in the following form:

"Martin, 6 die Februarii, 1840.

Whereas the House of Commons have this day ordered that Thomas Burton Howard should be sent for, in the custody of the Serjeant-at-Arms attending this House;

That they have thereupon been informed by the Serjeant-at-Arms, that Thomas Burton Howard was in custody. An Order was thereupon made by the House on the same day, that Thomas Burton Howard should be brought to the bar. Howard was accordingly brought to the bar in custody of the Serjeant-at-Arms, and examined by Mr. Speaker; after which he was ordered to withdraw. The entry in the Journal of the House of Mr. Speaker's reprimand before referred to was read; and the House came to the following Resolution:

"That Thomas Burton Howard, having served a writ of summons upon Messrs. Hansard, the Printers of this House, to cause an appearance to be entered in the Court of Queen's Bench, in an Action at the suit of John Joseph Stockdale, in respect of a publication ordered by authority of this House, has been guilty of a high contempt and breach of the Privileges of this House;" and it was thereupon ordered that he should, for his said offence, be committed to Her Majesty's goal of Newgate.

In the year 1843 Howard brought an Action of trespass against the Serjeant-at-Arms for taking him into custody and bringing him to the House under the circumstances above stated. The House, having subsequently been informed by the Serjeant that he had been served with a declaration in the Action, came, on the 13th March 1843, to the following Resolutions: "That Sir William Gosset, Knight, the Serjeant-at-Arms attending this House, have leave to appear and defend the Action brought against him by Thomas Burton Howard for trespass; and that Her Majesty's Attorney-General be directed to defend Sir William Gosset against the said Action." Upon these Resolutions of the House pleas were put in, justifying the acts of the Serjeant, under the authority of Mr. Speaker's Warrant. To these pleas there were special demurrers denying their sufficiency in law. The argument upon the demurrers took place in the Court of Queen's Bench in November last; and after time taken for consideration, that court, on the 15th May, pronounced judgment for the plaintiff, a majority of the Judges being of opinion that the pleas were no answer in point of law to the Action.

This judgment will be found at length in the Appendix (No. 3.) to this Report. It will be seen that the court was not unanimous; Lord Denman, Mr. Justice..."
Justice Coleridge, and Mr. Justice Wightman being in favour of the plaintiff, and Mr. Justice Williams being of opinion that judgment ought to be for the defendant. With regard to the general effect of the judgment, and the particular opinions maintained by individual Judges, your Committee feel it to be their duty to submit to the House the following Observations.——The House was first to observe that the three Judges who decided in favour of the plaintiff differed on the grounds upon which their judgment was given. Mr. Justice Wightman de- cides the question exclusively upon the technical and formal ground, that although by the recital of the Order of the House in the Warrant, it appears that the plaintiff was to be sent for in the custody of the Serjeant-at-Arms, yet the Warrant itself, in the mandatory part, merely directs the Serjeant to take him into custody, and therefore does not justify " the taking the plaintiff first to one place, and then to another place, and keeping him there, in order to take him before the House, and which the Ser- jeant was not directed to do by the Warrant." This, in the opinion of your Committee, leads to the inference that the Warrant was held by the learned Judge only to authorize the Serjeant to take the plaintiff into custody, and have him come so, either immediately to discharge him, or to keep him in the exact spot where he was arrested, until a fresh Order was made by the House to bring him before it, that he might be taken to an- other place, and as much beyond the limits of the authority as the taking the plaintiff any distance, after having arrested him. Mr. Justice Coleridge, however, is upon this point, of an opposite opinion: he says, " I think it might have been answered, that all this might be collected with reasonable certainty enough from the recitals; at least sufficiently for the purpose of protecting the officer in his obedience." He rests his judgment upon a different foundation: he objects to the Warrant as defective, upon the reason that the plaintiff was to be in custody, in whose custody to be kept, or where to be carried by the Serjeant, I think must have been answered, that all this might be collected with reasonable certainty enough from the recitals; at least sufficiently for the purpose of protecting the officer in his obedience." He rests his judgment upon a different foundation: he objects to the Warrant as defective, upon the ground that the cause for which the plaintiff was ordered to be sent for in custody of the Serjeant-at-Arms, is not there stated. He denies that the Order of the House is a sufficient cause ; and states that to assert it to be so " involves this proposition, that the House may order its officer to arrest any man and bring him in custody before them at its mere will, without previous summons, without charge of offence or adjudication of guilt, without any purpose to be answered, in a word, without any cause but their mere will and pleasure." In further reference to this proposition he expresses himself in the following language: " In truth, com- mon learning and the constitution, common justice and common sense, equally revolt against it. If such a limitation on the birth-right of Englishmen existed, so important and so remarkable in its cause and consequences, it must have been stated (though it would have been recorded with regret, I think, and something like shame) in some one of the many definitions of our most valuable rights, the right of personal liberty, with which our text-writers abound." Lord Denman, however, does not concur in this doctrine. He says, " Some doubt has been strongly and eloquently stated on the power to order a person to be brought before the House in custody in the first instance, or at least without apprising him of the reason for requiring his attendance. But I confess that it would rather appear to me, though sensible of the weight of these considera- tions, that, as the exercise of their privilege of in- quiry may obviously be wholly defeated by delay, it may be necessary to secure such attendance by coercive measures and without explanation; and that of that necessity the House alone can judge." Your Committee find great difficulty in ascertaining the precise ground upon which Lord Denman founds his opinion in favour of the plaintiff. One point, however, is clearly and distinctly stated by him, namely, that the Warrant of the Speaker may be examined and tried by the same technical rules as are applied to Warrants of Justices of the Peace. On this subject Lord Denman says, " There is no disrespect to the high Assembly with which this matter originated, in applying the same rules of construction to the instrument by which it acts as to those that may be issued by an ordinary Justice of the Peace. Mr. Justice Coleridge goes even further than this; and says upon this subject, " I cannot admit that the degree of strictness in which formal accuracy is to be required in warrants has been measured, or ought to be by the dignity of the courts from which they issue. Experience has shown that the liberty of the subject, with which we are intrusted, is involved in the accuracy in point of form, of legal proceedings; for that reason ac- curacy is required; and in that view of it, it is no paradox to say that form becomes substance. The more powerful therefore the source, the higher in point of rank, the more strictness ought we to show, the more accuracy may reasonably be required. From the very extent of jurisdiction, indeed, in the one case, and its narrowness in the other, a different rule of intendment exists; but with this qualifica- tion, the rule is as I have stated: and as it is no breach of respect to assume that the highest func- tionary of the most exalted court may imprudently err in point of form, however honest his intention; and as the most mischievous results might flow to the individual or to posterity if the inaccuracies were allowed to pass into a precedent, the more mis- chievous in proportion to the greater power of the court, it is no breach of respect, but a bounden duty, respectfully to advert to what appear to them to be the leading points of the judgment; but for a full explanation of the nature and grounds of the decision, they refer the House to the judgment as given at length in the Appendix. It will be observed that although many authorities were cited in argument to show that the House had been accustomed on former occasions, by Judges of high eminence and great learning, to possess the sole and exclusive right of judging of its own Privileges, and of the form of its Warrants, yet none of the learned Judges, in the judgments which they delivered, thought it necessary to notice these authorities. From this omission, as well as from their own express declarations, it would appear that the Judges considered that no question of the Privileges of the House was involved in their decision; and that the form of Warrants issued by Mr. Speaker by Order of the House may be questioned, and adjudged to be bad, without impugning the authority of the House, or in any way disputing its Privileges. Your Committee entirely dissent from this doc- trine. They cannot admit the right of any court of law to decide on the propriety of those forms of Warrants which the House, through its highest officer, has thought proper to adopt on any particu- lar occasion. If the highest court of law has this right, it is impossible to deny it to the lowest. A magistratе (as was done in Brass Crosby's case) might be called upon to decide upon technical ob- jections taken to the Speaker's Warrant. For as- suming this authority the Lord Mayor of London was committed by the House, in 1777, for contempt. He endeavored to procure his discharge in the courts of law, and sued out writs of Habeas Corpus for that purpose, but failed. If the public good makes it necessary for the House to issue a Warrant, your Committee think it ought to be made in favour of its validity. They cannot express their Opinion on this point more distinctly than in the words of Mr. Justice Blackstone, in giving giving judgment in Brass Crosby's case: "Little nice objections of particular words, and forms and ceremonies of execution, are not to be regarded in the acts of the House of Commons; it is our duty to presume the Orders of that House, and their execution, according to law."

The practice of the House, indeed, in earlier times appears to have been to arrest without a written Warrant. In these cases the Serjeant, with the mace, was the sole indication of its will; and there is no reason to presume, as Mr. Justice Coke, in Coe vs. ridge, does, that the Serjeant orally communicated to the party the cause for which he was summoned or arrested," or did more than require him to accompany him to the House in obedience to its directions.

Your Committee, however, find that in the present case, the Speaker's Warrant has been held to afford no protection to your officer acting in obedience to it; and that the form of the Warrant has been criticised, and its validity tried by strict and technical rules. When, in addition to this, they consider the principles asserted and maintained by some of the counsel in support of their decisions, they cannot but regard the judgment, if accepted, as subversive of Privileges, without which the exercise of important constitutional functions of the House would be seriously impeded. It is laid down by Lord Coke, and in books of the highest authority, that "the Commons are the general inquirers of the realm;" in that character they must be invested with the right of instituting inquiry into all matters connected with the public interest; and the performance of their duties it is absolutely essential that they should possess the discretionary power of enforcing the attendance of all persons from whom, in their judgment, information is likely to be obtained, and whom they think it their duty to examine, without the necessity of communicating to the party the object for which his attendance is required, which in some cases would wholly defeat the inquiry. This power flows indeed so necessarily from the nature of the duties which the House has to discharge, that to deny it appears to be the same as to deny that any such duties are thrown upon it by the constitution.

Your Committee, although denying the authority of any court of law to decide upon the validity of a Warrant issued by the Speaker in pursuance of the Orders of the House, have yet thought it right to cause search to be made amongst the Journals and other records of the House, and also amongst the Journals of the House of Lords, to ascertain the forms of Warrants adopted by the two Houses. They have laid before them copies of various Orders and Warrants issued to secure the attendance of witnesses, or the presence of some other persons, or for committing parties for contempt, or transferring witnesses, or the presence of some other persons, or for committing parties for contempt, or transferring them from the custody of the Serjeant-at-Arms to some other custody. Copies of these documents will be found in the Appendix, Nos. 4 and 5. The result of their examination has been to ascertain that the forms of Warrants have been from time to time adapted to the exigency of the particular occasion. Your Committee, however, are unwilling, by resting upon the validity of the form of the Warrant, to be supposed to abandon for a moment the right of the House to exclude every other jurisdiction than its own from deciding upon the existence and extent of their Privileges, or the validity of their solemn acts. In vindication of this position, your Committee think it unnecessary to re-assert the principles maintained in the Reports of the Select Committees in Coe vs. ridge, and Stockdale vs. Hansard, or to do more than express their entire concurrence in the opinions of those Committees in favour of the Privileges of the House.

Having offered to the House these Observations, your Committee proceed, in further discharge of the duty imposed upon them, to express their Opinion as to the course which, in the present state of the proceedings in the Action of Howard v. Goss, it is advisable for the House to adopt. They have given their anxious consideration to this question, and have found it one of great difficulty. On the one hand, they feel that it is of the utmost importance that the House should maintain the ancient Privileges which are essential to the discharge of its constitutional functions; on the other hand, they are not insensible to the public evil which might result from the adoption by the House of Commons of decisive measures for resisting the execution of a judgment of a court of law. They are not without apprehension that such measures may hereafter become inevitable: but they entertain a strong conviction that it would be inexpedient for the House needlessly to precipitate such a crisis; and they think that every other legitimate mode of asserting and defending its Privileges should be exhausted before it resorts to the exercise of that power which it possesses for preventing, by its own authority, the further progress of an Action in which judgment has been obtained. It must be borne in mind, that this Action has been already suffered to proceed through all its ordinary stages. Prior to this, the House, in the performance of its officer to plead, followed the precedents of Burdett v. Abbot, and of Stockdale v. Hansard. Your Committee entertain no doubt that in taking this course the House had no intention of submitting its Privileges to the judgment of the court; but that its single object was to bring under the knowledge of the court, in the most formal manner, that the acts complained of by the plaintiff were done by an officer of the House in obedience to the authority of the House. In this view of the case, the pleas, in the opinion of your Committee, ought to have been admitted as a sufficient answer to the Action.

A different, and, as your Committee are persuaded, an erroneous construction, appears to have been placed upon the pleas; and the question therefore now arises, what, in the present state of the proceedings, is the course most consistent with the dignity of the House and the maintenance of its privileges.

Your Committee cannot advise an acquiescence in the decision of the Court of Queen's Bench. Simply to submit to the judgment, and adopt no other proceeding, might be construed into an admission of the doctrines maintained by at least two of the Judges, not upon any purely formal or technical points, but upon alleged principles of law, deeply affecting the Privileges of the House; these doctrines, if allowed to remain unquestioned, might, because they were unquestioned, be hereafter appealed to as decisive authority, and considered as the ruling principles which determined the judgment of the court in this case. Submission would thus almost inevitably lead to further encroachments on the Privileges of the House.

In considering the expediency of any other course, your Committee have adverted to the fact, that the decisions adverse to the Privileges of the House of Commons which have been given of late years by judicial authorities, have been given by one court only, namely, the Court of Queen's Bench, and that the opinion of the Judges of the other courts has never been pronounced upon the subject.

Your Committee, moreover, attach importance to the fact that the Court of Queen's Bench itself, in this Action, was not unanimous in its judgment; and that the Judges, who constituted the majority of the court, assigned reasons for their judgment inconsistent with, and even contradictory to, each other.
Under these circumstances, your Committee have come to the conclusion that it would be advisable in the present case to bring a writ of error on the judgment. They are aware of the argument which may be urged against this further step, as an apparent recognition of the authority of a court of law to judge of the Privileges of the House, but they do not admit the force of this objection. They recommend a writ of error, under the impression that, after the course already taken by the House in levying the defendant's execution, a writ of error, on the ground that the Court of Queen's Bench ought to have admitted, upon demurrer, the sufficiency of a plea that the acts complained of by the plaintiff were done by an officer of the House in obedience to its authority, would not compromise the rights of the House, or impair the power with which it is invested by the constitution of asserting its Privileges. It must not be forgotten, that in the case of Burdett v. Abbot, where the judgment of the court below was in favour of the Privileges of the House of Commons, the plaintiff appealed to a Court of Error, and the judgment of the court below was supported in the Court of Error by counsel on behalf of the Speaker of the House of Commons, the defendant in error. Your Committee only refer to this case as raising a presumption that the House of Commons did not consider that there was any material distinction in principle between pleading in the court below and following the record into the Court of Error.

What may be the judgment of the Court of Error in the present case, your Committee cannot of course anticipate. If that court should reverse the judgment of the Court of Queen's Bench, the Privileges of the House of Commons will have been recognized; and the desire of the House will have been evinced to act with moderation and forbearance.

If, on the other hand, the Court of Error should uphold the judgment of the Court of Queen's Bench, it will then be for the House to determine what measures it will be indispensable for it to take, in order to preserve unimpaired those Privileges of which the House of Commons is the guardian, and which it cannot abandon without violating the trust which has been committed to its care.

Your Committee are of opinion that the consideration of such measures will not be prejudiced by the fact of a writ of error having been brought; but that, on the contrary, the necessity for their adoption will be rendered more evident by the proof that every other course which was open for the vindication of Privileges essential to the proper discharge of its public functions, had been pursued, without success, by the House of Commons.

There is one point on which a few words of explanation may be necessary. In their first Report, your Committee, after submitting their opinion that a writ of error should be brought, added, "that as the levying of the plaintiff's execution would in no respect prejudice the proceedings in the writ of error, they did not deem it expedient to advise the House to interpose to prevent the levy." Your Committee took into consideration the question, whether it would be expedient to prevent the levy of the execution before authorizing bail to be given on bringing the writ of error, as a necessary condition of a postponement of the levy; were clearly of opinion that this would not be expedient. It is true that it would preclude the plaintiff from reaping the immediate fruits of his Action; but your Committee felt that, by authorizing bail to be given, the House would have submitted to abide by the future judgment of the Court of Error, in the event of its being adverse. They were of opinion that any improbability of receiving back the amount of damages in the event of the judgment of the Court of Queen's Bench being reversed by the Court of Error, was comparatively unimportant; and that it was of the highest consequence that the House should reserve to itself an absolute and unfettered discretion as to the course which it may hereafter be requisite to adopt.

Your Committee cannot close their Report without advertling to the fact, which has in some degree influenced their recommendation, that three other Actions are pending at present against officers of the House, for acts done under its authority; that in one of these Actions the damages have been at the sum of 106,000l.; and that they have all been brought in the Court of Queen's Bench. In all of these the House has permitted its officer to plead, and it has directed that the Attorney-General should defend the Actions.

Your Committee wish expressly to guard themselves against the supposition, that in recommending a writ of error in the action of Howard v. Gosset, they have expressed any opinion as to the course to be adopted in the event of a decision in any of the pending Actions adverse to the Privileges of the House of Commons. The proceedings in these Actions are not before them; and it would be premature to offer any recommendation to the House as to the course which it may hereafter be right to take with reference to those cases.

Your Committee, however, are of opinion, that a decision of the Court of Error in the action of Howard v. Gosset, if obtained, as it probably would be, before the judgment of the court below is pronounced in any of the other Actions, may greatly assist the House in deciding on its future course.

A Petition of Her Majesty's most dutiful and loyal British Subjects Abroad; Subjects the Legislative Council and the Legislative Assembly of the Province of Canada, in Provincial Parliament assembled, (signed by the Speakers), was presented, and read; setting forth, That the increased importance of the interests of owners of ships and vessels navigating the inland waters of that province requires that the same protection and privileges be extended to vessels so employed as are enjoyed by British vessels in all other parts of Her Majesty's dominions; that the provision of the Thirty-first section of the Act passed in the third and fourth years of the reign of his late Majesty King William the Fourth, which permits goods, the produce of foreign countries, to be brought or imported by foreign vessels or boats, as well as in British vessels or boats, is no longer necessary or advantageous for the interests of that province, and that the repeal of that part of the clause in question which contains the aforesaid provision would tend greatly to advance the prosperity of the inland trade of that province; that the extension of the Acts passed in the third and fourth years of the reign of His late Majesty King William the Fourth, intituled respectively, An Act for the registering of British Vessels, and An Act for the encouragement of British Shipping and Navigation, to vessels built and owned in that province employed in navigating the inland waters, would, by securing to Her Majesty's subjects in that province owning vessels so employed the valuable privileges and advantages enjoyed by British vessels in other portions of Her Majesty's dominions, greatly tend to the encouragement of British shipping and navigation, and the commercial interests of that province; that many persons of foreign birth having emigrated to that province at an early period, and taken up their permanent residence there under the encouragement held out to them by the Government, have become naturalized subjects of Her Majesty under and by virtue of various Acts of the Provincial Parliament of this province as well as of Acts of the Provincial Parliament, 24th June. A. 1845.

Parliaments of the late provinces of Lower and Upper Canada respectively, while others are now in process of becoming naturalized under the said Acts, and it is probable that in the course of the settling of the country others may hereafter acquire the rights of naturalization by virtue of Acts of the Provincial Parliament to be hereafter passed for that purpose; that the privileges of naturalization thus obtained, allowing the parties only within the limits within which the jurisdiction of the Provincial Parliament in this particular extends, it is highly desirable that in any amendment of the said Act of the Imperial Parliament, passed in the third and fourth years of the reign of his late Majesty King William the Fourth, with a view to give effect to the object heretofore referred to, a provision should be made by which all the rights of natural-born British subjects, as respects trade, shipping and navigation, and the ownership of goods and shipping engaged in the same, should be conferred by imperial legislation upon all such persons as already have been or hereafter may become naturalized by or under the authority of any of such provincial Acts, passed or to be passed as aforesaid, so far at least as respects the coasting trade and fisheries of the province itself, and the direct trade between it and the mother country, our sister colonies and foreign nations; and praying the House to take the representation they have now made into consideration, and thereupon to pass such legislative measures as the House may deem expedient.

The Lord Advocate reported from the Committee appointed to draw up Reasons to be offered to the Lords at a Conference, for disagreeing to one of the Amendments made by their Lordships to the Bill, intituled, An Act for consolidating in one Act certain Provisions usually inserted in Acts authorizing the making of Railways in Scotland; That they had drawn up Reasons accordingly; which they had directed him to report, as follows:

The Commons disagree to the Lords' Amendment, Clause (A.),

First,—Because the Clause, while it declares that the Railway Company shall become creditors on the tolls of the turnpike-roads for the amount of compensation that may be awarded and paid, does not provide that the amount of compensation so awarded and paid, or any part thereof, shall be applied towards extinction of debts secured over or affecting such tolls.

Second,—Because the Clause recognizes the recovery of compensation from the Railway Company for the purpose of reimbursing proprietors of lands in the vicinity of roads, or other parties, for money paid by them towards defraying the expense of making roads, although such proprietors or other parties may not have obtained or stipulated for or contemplated obtaining any security over the tolls of such roads.

Third,—Because the Clause, while it gives the sole power and jurisdiction in regard to the awarding of compensation to the Sheriff, does not point out what Sheriff is to exercise such power and jurisdiction in each case; the Railway may be in more than one county, the roads in regard to which the compensation is claimed may be in more than one county, and these counties, or some of them, may be different from the counties, or some of them, in which the Railway is situated; the Sheriff of none of these counties would have any power or jurisdiction in the matter, unless clearly conferred on him by the statute, and no Sheriff has power or jurisdiction beyond his own county, unless it be expressly conferred on him by statute.

Fourth,—Because, besides these Reasons, the Commons cannot agree in the propriety of affirming the principle of compensation contained in this Clause as a general rule applicable to every Railway Bill in Scotland.

The said Reasons, being read a second time, were agreed to.

Ordered, That a Conference be desired with the Lords, upon the subject-matter of the Amendments made by their Lordships to the said Bill: And that the Lord Advocate do go to the Lords, and desire the said Conference.

The Death by Accidents Compensation Bill was read the first time; and ordered to be read a second time upon Tuesday next; and to be printed.

And, of the Number of Soldiers belonging to the Royal Artillery in Great Britain and Ireland who, between the 1st day of January 1839 and the 31st day of December 1843, have suffered Corporal Punishment or Imprisonment; showing the nature of the Offences, in classes, for which such Corporal Punishment or Imprisonment has been awarded, and the Number of each class; and showing also the greatest and the smallest Number of Lashes, also the longest and shortest period of Confinement awarded as Punishment, and the average period for each Class of Offences:

to which the proceedings now before Parliament on behalf of the said Company relate, involves a capital of six millions sterling; that the Petitioners introduced various Bills into the House in the present session for certain extensions of the said Railway, and one of which said proposed extensions from Hungerford Bridge to Chatham, reported for non-compliance of Standing Orders, is now a project in Group (A.) Committee of the House; that an opposing Company, called the London, Chatham and North Kent Railway Company, has now a Bill before the said Committee, Group (A.), intituled, "A Bill for making a Railway from London to Canterbury, with Branches therefrom;" that the Petitioners have been opposing the said London, Chatham and North Kent Railway Bill, in the said Committee, twenty-two days to the present day, inclusive; and by counsel, agents and witnesses, at great cost, have been promoting their own competing line, in opposition to the said other projected Railway; that in the course of the evidence of the Petitioners before the said Committee difficulties were proved to exist in the London, Chatham and North Kent Railway scheme, by reason of certain objections to the levels and stations in the vicinity of Woolwich; that those facts were supported on behalf of the Petitioners by the evidence of the Right honourable Lord Bloomfield, Commandant of the Artillery at Woolwich, and other artillery and engineer officers, who stated that the passing of the said North Kent Line as proposed could not be carried out consistently with the public safety and the maintenance of that branch of the public service; that the said difficulty raised against the North Kent by this evidence was met by the production of a letter, signed by Mr. Hignett, the Solicitor to the said Board of Ordnance, stating the assent to the said Railway plan by the said Board of Ordnance; that the following documents in relation thereto are extracts from the Minutes of Evidence taken before the said Committee, Group (A.) Office of Ordnance, 20th January 1845.

Str.—The Master-General and Board of Ordnance having had under consideration your notice No. 4 as to the Ordnance property at Woolwich, Chatham and Sheerness affected by the proposed London, Chatham and North Kent Railway, I am directed to communicate to you thereon as follows: (Woolwich.) If the line of Railway be adopted the Master-General and Board consider it to be quite indis- pensable that it shall be tunnelled throughout the whole extent of its course through the Ordnance property at this place; and further that no station be placed so near to the Ordnance boundary at either end as to afford a pretext or create a temptation, to persons going to or coming from the station to cross or trespass in any manner upon the Ordnance property. (Chatham.) In the proposed Bill a Clause should be introduced requiring the Railway to pass through the Ordnance property, on a Plan approved by the Master-General and Board, the details of which should be prepared in this department, showing the manner in which the work must be executed, so as to prevent injury to the defences of the place. (Sheerness.) The Master-General and Board cannot sanction the line of Railway at this place, an embankment in the Ordnance property being objectionable. Subject to these exceptions, the Master-General and Board assure you, in all other respects, that, so far as this property is concerned, you may proceed, Vol. 100.

The A Petition of the South Eastern Railway Company under their common seal, was presented, and read; setting forth, That the Petitioners were incorporated by Acts of Parliament for the formation and maintenance of a line of Railway between the metropolis and Dover, and that Branches therefrom to various towns within the county of Kent, have since been constructed; and that they said public undertaking, with the works in progress, and those Vol. 100.

Resolved, That the annual Sum of Eight hundred and forty-three Pounds shall be paid, out of the Consolidated Fund of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, to the Person entitled to the Profits of the Office of Receiver-General and Comptroller of the Seal of the Courts of Queen's Bench and Common Pleas, and the annual Sum of Three hundred Pounds, out of the same Fund, to the present Deputy of the Receiver-General, on the abolition of the Office. pose of being laid before the Master-General and Board of Ordnance, and for their approval and sanction, a map of their proposed line of Railway extending from Blackheath to the further side of Plumstead Common. On the map the line of Railway is coloured blue, the boundaries of the Ordnance property at Woolwich and Charlton (so far as the same are known to the Company's Engineer) are marked by a red shade. The station for the accommodation of Woolwich is proposed to be placed on the west side of Woolwich Common, and the approach thereto from the town of Woolwich is proposed to be made along the road called Sandy Hill, and which is coloured blue on the map.

"As the house belonging to the Ordnance, and usually occupied by the Adjutant-General of the Royal Artillery, and also the field in the occupation of the officer commanding the Engineers at Woolwich, must unavoidably be greatly interfered with, it is proposed, at the Company's expense, to rebuild a suitable mansion in such a situation as the Master-General and Board of Ordnance may select, and also so to construct the line of Railway as to make the least possible severance in the Commanding Engineer's field, and, if required, to purchase proper ground, and at the Company's expense, in any other convenient situation. It is most respectfully submitted to the Master-General and Board of Ordnance, that the station for Woolwich will thus be placed in a position to allow of no excuse for trespassing on the Ordnance property, while the situation is as far removed as possible from the boundary of the Ordnance grounds, so as to leave the Company any chance of profit for their outlay in constructing the Railway. The Plan also shows the nearest station to the westward of Woolwich Common, which will be situated at Kidbrook-lane, between Morden College and the inn called The Sun in the Sands, which it is hoped may be considered by the Master-General and Board of Ordnance as a position which will not at all tend to occasion any trespass on the Ordnance property. I beg to add that the severed portion of the Commanding Engineer's field would have afforded a more desirable station for the public and the Company, but, in order to conform to the views of the Master-General, it has been proposed to place the eastward station at Sandy Hill.

"I have the honour to be, Sir,
"Your most obedient Servant,
"(Signed) "William Stephens.""

Heavitide's Divorce Bill. Sir John Yardes Bulter reported, That he had carried to the Lords the Message of this House, that they had examined those establishments, and having paid considerable attention to the sufferings and unjust treatment of persons, male and female, who have been confined in those establishments, and having paid considerable attention to the subject generally, is of opinion that the said Bill is very defective, and may prove very injurious, and that it falls very far short of the objects for which it is intended; that the Board of the Metropolitan Commissioners in Lunacy is, in practice, contrary (as the Petitioner believes) to the intentions of and without the real knowledge of Parliament, a closed and secret court, where persons confined in asylums, without the knowledge of the charges brought against them, and without even any one specific charge amounting to a proof of insanity, have their cases inquired into behind their backs, without notice being given to them of the day on which such inquiry is to take place; without the power of being present by attorney, or of sending a friend to watch the proceedings; without any knowledge of the evidence produced against them; and consequently without power to cross-examine, refute, or answer the same; that the delays necessary to such a course of proceedings are very great, but that they are cruelly aggravated by the long intervals of time that elapse between each inquiry; that the present Bill tends to continue and to sanction this system, which is foreign to and hateful to the constitution of these realms, and furthermore tends to erect another Committee within their Commission, still more secret, for the inquiry into the cases of persons confined as of unsound mind in private houses; that it is the opinion of the Petitioner, from the reports he has heard of the manner in which the Commissioners conduct their inquiry into a patient's case, of such patient himself, that they are influenced by prejudice, and that they frequently conduct their examination in an unfeeling and negligent manner, and that they are not worthy of so much confidence as they demand from the House; that from his own experience the Petitioner can affirm that the quarterly visits of visiting magistrates and of itinerant Commissioners to asylums, contemplated by this Bill, cannot afford sufficient safeguard against or provision for the removal of unjust imprisonments, and cannot in any means, insurmountable, sober, decent and forbearing conduct in the management of private asylums; and praying that no inquiry shall be made into the treatment of the aforesaid patients, and into the laws affecting their seizure, detention, and release, before a Committee of the House, before the passing of this Bill into a law; but if the House resolves to pass this Bill into a law, then the Petitioner prays that a provision may be made into the treatment of lunatic and other patients, and into the laws affecting their seizure, detention, and release, before a Committee of the House, before the passing of this Bill into a law; but if the House resolves to pass this Bill into a law, then the Petitioner prays that a provision may be inserted in the law to enable the Bishops of dioceses, in which any asylums are situated, to appoint one of the clergymen of the parish in which any such asylum is situated, or one of the adjoining parishes, to visit such asylum at such times as he shall think proper during the week, such clerical visitor to be appointed with the approbation of the visiting magistrates or Commissioners, after due notice, and to beremoveable only by the Bishop so appointing, or, on appeal to the Home Secretary, by the Home Secretary, with the consent of the Archbishop of the diocese; that a provision be made to the physician or medical man signing any certificate, state the facts upon which he judges any patient a proper person to be confined; that a provision be made enabling the visiting magistrates or Commissioners to require immediately any person of whose sanity they have no doubts; that a provision be made to enable the visiting magistrates and Commissioners to allow any patient, who is not a dangerous...

Ordered, That the Report from the Committee to whom it was referred to consider the payment, out of the Consolidated Fund of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, of the Sums required to defray the Salaries and Expenses of the Commissioners of Lunacy and other Officers employed by the said Commissioners, be now received.

An Amendment was proposed to be made to the Question, by leaving out from the words "That the"
the 30th day of May, at one of the clock, and bring with you the pension and papers of the Union relating to the Medical Relief given to the Poor of the Union. Ashley, Chairman. Toyns, Devon."

That the Petitioner attended accordingly before the Committee of the House, on the 20th day of May, 1844, and the 24th days of the same month was examined by such Committee; and on the latter day, namely, the 24th, in reply to questions put by Lord Ashley, as Chairman, the Petitioner made the following statement: "Mr. Phillips has three parishes, Dean Prior, Staverton and Rattery. Buckfastleigh is another district that Mr. Mackay had, and the said Mackay had two. Mr. Phillips' parish was 1½ miles from Queen's Buck. against the

my own feeling was against it; but, at the same time, Boards of Guardians rather to err on the lenient side. But I sought to state that Mr. Phillips was called before the Board, and I was requested by the Board to reprimand him for his conduct, which I did severely, and we thought it would deter him from doing again; but after that it was reported to us by the Guardians that he did the same thing again, but the second time was not known to us, when we appointed him to the three parishes of Ashburton, Staverton and Battery; but he himself, in his age and infirmity he could not continue, and therefore it became necessary to appoint another medical officer to that district. I believe there was a Mr. Phillips, the same person I have before mentioned, residing in the village of Buckfastleigh. Mr. Lyle, the person who has been appointed, resides at Ashburton. Ashburton and Buckfastleigh are two adjoining parishes, and I cannot say what the distance is half a mile, but I believe it is about two or three miles or a half from the town of Ashburton to the village of Buckfastleigh. Now Mr. Phillips would have been appointed to the parish of Buckfastleigh by Mr. Phillips himself; he had not conducted himself in the manner in which the Board thought a medical officer ought to have conducted himself; for previous to this there was a complaint, about a year or two ago, that Mr. Phillips had been going about into pot-houses and exciting the poor against the Poor Law. This was stated by one of the principal manufacturers of the place, and likewise by a most respectable tenant of Lord Macclesfield, a person by the name of Coates; they made a formal complaint to the Board, stating that it was dangerous if this was allowed, where there was a large manufacturing population; that it was exceedingly dangerous to the manufacturers there, and some ill consequences might ensue from it. In consequence of this the Board summoned Mr. Phillips to appear before them, to answer this complaint, because he, being a medical officer, of course they thought it their duty to inquire into it. They did inquire into it, and he could not dispute it; there was no doubt that he had been doing so. Then, when it became a question whether he should be called to the bar, we substituted the resignation of Mr. Mackay, and when Mr. Lyle had applied, the three Guardians of the parish being at the Board, requested the Board most particularly not to appoint Mr. Phillips, because he had been in the habit of going about into pot-houses exciting the poor against the Poor Law, and that great danger might ensue from it. The fact is, that the same Mr. Coates that I mentioned before, from the excitement that had taken place (though I do not know that it was caused by Mr. Phillips,) had had his barn burnt down to the ground. What could the Board do? They could not appoint such a man as that to have constant access to their district, it would be exciting them. Mr. Lyle, a most respectable professional man, from Ashburton, offered, and he being the nearest medical man, and having the care of the poor in the adjoining parish of Holne, where he conducted himself remarkably well, they offered it to him, as I think they were in duty bound to do, and they gave him a salary of £1 a-year, as Mr. Mackay had had. That is the history as to Mr. Phillips; undoubtedly he will complain, but I do not think that the Board could have done otherwise;" that Mr. Bramston, Member for South Essex, and one of the Committee then present, put the following question: "Why did the Board, having this bad opinion of Mr. Phillips, still appoint him to take care of three other parishes?" To which the Petitioner made the following reply: "Boards of Guardians do not like to act harshly. I must say..."
be desirable that the provisions of the Act should be adopted, it shall be lawful for any three persons rated to the Poor's Rates to deliver a requisition to the officiating Minister of the parish, requiring him to call a meeting to decide upon the adoption or non-adoption of the Act.

Parrott"; that the Petitioners never had any intention whatever of infringing any of the Privileges of the House, but, on the contrary, the Declaration in this cause was framed with the utmost care to avoid any offence to the House, being framed upon the assumption that a witness was protected for all evidence given by him bonâ fide, before a Committee, and seeking to recover damages only in respect of evidence which was wilfully and maliciously false; that the Petitioners were advised and believe, that the House would give the same protection to a witness giving evidence, in obedience to its Orders, as would be afforded by the Superior Courts at Westminster to witnesses giving evidence before them, and no more, and inasmuch as the Action in question could not succeed without proof of wilful falsehood and express malice, the Petitioners considered that whatever might be the Privileges of the House, they would not be exercised to protect the defendant in this Action, any more than the powers of the Superior Courts at Westminster would be exerted to protect any witness from an indictment for perjury; that if the Petitioners have, under these circumstances, been guilty of any infraction of the Privileges of the House, it has been unintentionally committed; and praying that the House will take these facts into consideration in deciding the matter.

A Petition.
South Eastern Railway (Ashford to Hastings) Bill; and, Brighton, Lewes and Hastings Railway (Hasting, Byne and Audford Extension) Bill.

A Petition of the South Eastern Railway Company, was presented, and read; setting forth, That the said South Eastern Railway Company have introduced a Bill into the House in the present Session, for making a Railway from Bulverhithe, in the county of Sussex, to Ashford, in the county of Kent; and the said Brighton, Lewes and Hastings Railway Company, have introduced a Bill into the House in the present Session, for making a Railway from Ashford to Hastings, both which Bills have been referred to the Select Committee of the House to whom the several Railway Bills and projects comprised in Group (A.) have been referred; that the objects proposed to be attained by the said two Bills are nearly identical, except that the point of commencement of the said first-mentioned Line at Bulverhithe is situate at a short distance to the westward of Hastings, the point of termination of the said last-mentioned Line, and it is deemed essential that only one of such Lines should be authorized to be made; That inasmuch as the first-mentioned of the said Lines, by reason of its connexion with the Brighton, Lewes and Hastings Railway, will complete in the most perfect manner the coast communication, which it is the object of both the Lines to afford, it has been held desirable that such Line should be selected as the one to be adopted; but the Petitioners, the said South Eastern Railway Company, and the said Brighton, Lewes and Hastings Railway Company are respectively willing that the said Line should be authorized to be made, and that the said South Eastern Railway Company should be authorized to construct such part of the same as above mentioned; but inasmuch as such Line is not precisely the same as that which the last-mentioned Company have given notice of their intention to construct, doubts are entertained as to how far powers can be conferred on them for construction of the said Line without the special permission of the House; that under these circumstances the Petitioners are most anxious that permission should be given for the introduction of Clauses into the Bill promoted by the said Brighton, Lewes, and Hastings Railway Company, enabling them to transfer the powers which may be thereby conferred on them for making and maintaining such portion of the said Railway as above mentioned to the Petitioners, the South Eastern Railway Company, and enabling the said Petitioners to accept such transfer and to exercise and enjoy all such powers as aforesaid.

A Petition of Inhabitants of Charwell, in the county of York, praying the House to institute an impartial, searching and open inquiry into the operation of the Anatomy Act, was presented, and read; and ordered to lie upon the Table.

Petitions from Ashton-under-Lyne — Langfield; — Bury, and Stockport; praying the House to pass an efficient Ten Hours Bill for all minors and females employed in Factories, were presented, and read; setting forth, That the Petitioner is a Justice of the Peace acting in and for the county of Devon, and by virtue of that appointment is ex-officio one of the Guardians of the Totnes Union, formed under the 4th and 5th Will. 4, c.76, intituled, An Act for the Amendment and better Administration of the Laws relating to the Poor; that the Petitioner was elected Chairman of the Board of Guardians of the said Union in the year 1842, and has been re-elected annually, and the Petitioner, now Chairman of such Board; that on or about the 16th or 17th day of May 1844, the Petitioner received by post an Order of the House addressed to him, "Jasper Parrott, Esquire, Chairman of the Totnes Union, Totnes," and which Order was signed by Lord Ashley, a Member of the House; which said Order was in the words and figures following, that is to say:

"House of Commons. Select Committee on Medical Poor Relief. Mercurius, 15° die Maii, 1844. Lord Ashley in the Chair. Ordered, That Jasper Parrott, Esquire, Chairman of the Totnes Union, do not attend this Committee on Monday next, the 20th day of May, at one of the clock, and bring with him the books and papers of the Union relating to the Medical Relief given to the Poor of the Union. Ashley, Chairman."

That the Petitioner, in obedience to such summons, on the 20th day of May, 1844, attended before the Committee of the House, and on the 22nd and 24th days of the said month of May, was examined by and before a Select Committee touching the Medical Relief afforded to the Poor of that Union; that on the latter day of the said month, namely the 24th day of May 1844, the Petitioner, during his examination, gave the following explanation with reference to the Medical Relief afforded to the parishes of Dean Prior, Staverton, Battery, and Buckfastleigh, which parishes form part of the Totnes Union: "Mr. Phillips has three parishes, Dean Prior, Staverton and Battery, Buckfastleigh is another district that Mr. Mackay had, and the salary was raised from 12l. to 15l. a year, but from his age and infirmity he could not continue, and therefore it became necessary to appoint another medical officer to that district. I believe there was a Mr. Phillips, the same person I have before mentioned, residing in the village of Buckfastleigh. Mr. Lyle, the person who has been appointed, resides at Ashburton. Ashburton and Buckfastleigh are two adjoining parishes. I cannot say what the distance is, to half a mile, but I believe it is about two miles or two miles and a half from the town of Ashburton to the village of Buckfastleigh. Now Mr. Phillips would have been appointed to the parish of Buckfastleigh, but unfortunately Mr. Phillips had not conducted himself in the manner in which the Board thought it expedient and necessary that he should have conducted himself; for previous to this there was a complaint, about a year or two ago, that Mr. Phillips had been going about into pot-houses and exciting the poor against the Poor Law. This was complained of by the Petitioner, in giving such evidence as aforesaid, was not actuated by any malicious or vindictive feeling whatsoever against the said David Phillips, but that such evidence was given by the Petitioner under a sense of duty to the House, upon being ordered to attend before the Select Committee on Medical Poor Relief on the Petition; therefore most duly and distinctly submits these circumstances to the House, the Petitioner being quite ready and willing to substantiate before the House the truth of such statement and explanation so made by the Petitioner before the Medical Poor Relief Committee as aforesaid, and that the said David Phillips has not been deprived of any offices or consequence in consequence of such statements so made by the Petitioner as aforesaid, and that the House think proper to direct further inquiry in the matter of this Petition; and the Petitioner submits to act in the premises as the House shall deem fit.

A Petition of David Phillips, of Buckfastleigh, in the county of Devon, Surgeon and Apothecary, was also presented, and read; setting forth, That in the year 1844, a Select Committee was appointed by the House to inquire into the mode of administering Medical Relief to the Sick Poor, under the provisions of the Poor Law Amendment Act; that on the 24th of May 1844, Jasper Parrott, of Harberton, in the county of Devon, Esquire, the Chairman of Guardians of the Totnes Union, was called in and examined as a witness before the Select Committee, and the following is an extract from his evidence:—"Mr. Phillips has three parishes, Dean Prior, Rattery and Staverton; Buckfastleigh is another district, that Mr. Mackay had, and the salary was raised from 12l. to 15l. a year, but from his age and infirmity he could not continue, and therefore it became necessary to appoint another medical officer to that district; I believe there was a Mr. Phillips, the same person I have before mentioned, residing in the village of Buckfastleigh; Mr. Lyle, the person who has been appointed, resides at Ashburton; Ashburton and Buckfastleigh are two adjoining parishes; I cannot say what the distance is, to half a mile, and I believe it is about two miles or two miles and a half from the town of Ashburton to the village of Buckfastleigh. Now Mr. Phillips would have been appointed to the parish of Buckfastleigh, but unfortunately Mr. Phillips had not conducted himself in a manner in which the Board thought a medical officer ought to have conducted himself, for previous to this there was a complaint, about a year or two ago, that Mr. Phillips had been going about into pot-houses and exciting the poor against the Poor Laws. This was one of the principal manufacturers of the place, and likewise by a most respectable tenant of Lord Macclesfield, a person of the name of Coates. They made this formal complaint to the Board, stating that it was dangerous if this was allowed where there was a large manufacturing population; that it was exceedingly dangerous to the manufacturers there, and some ill consequences might ensue from it. In consequence of this the Board summoned Mr. Phillips to appear before them to answer this complaint, because he being a medical officer, of course they thought it their duty to inquire into it. They did inquire into it, and he could not disprove it, there was no doubt that he had been doing so. Then, when it became a question whether he should be appointed to Buckfastleigh, upon the resignation of Mr. Mackay, and when Mr. Lyle had applied, the three guardians of the parish, being at the Board, requested the Board most particularly not to appoint Mr. Phillips, because he was in the habit of going into pot-houses, exciting the poor against the Poor Laws, and that great danger might ensue from it. The fact is, that the same Mr. Coates that I mentioned before, from the excitement that had taken place, though I do not know that it was caused by Mr. Phillips, had had him burned down to the ground. What could the board do? They could not appoint such a man as that to have constant access to the poor, a man who had been exciting them. Mr. Lyle, a most respectable professional man from Ashburton, offered, and he being the nearest medical man, and having the care of the poor of the adjoining parish of Holne, where he conducted himself remarkably well, they offered it to him, as I think they were in duty bound to do, and they gave him a salary of 13l. a year, as Mr. Mackay had had; that is the explanation history as to Mr. Phillips. I must still complain, but I do not think the Board could have done otherwise:—And the said Jasper Parrott, in continuation of the said evidence, in answer to the following question, viz.: "Why did the Board summon Mr. Bramston, viz.: 'Why did the Board summon Mr. Phillips, still appoint him to take care of three other parishes?' said, "Boards of Guardians do not like to act hastily; I must say my own feeling was against it, but at the same time Boards of Guardians wish rather to err on the lenient side; but I ought to state that Mr. Phillips was called before the Board, and I was requested by the Board to re-examine for his conduct, which I did severely, and we thought it would deter him from doing so again, but after that it was reported to us by the Guardians that he did the same thing again, and that second time was not known to us when we appointed him to the three parishes of Dean Prior, Rattery and Staverton; it may become a question in future." That upon the return of the said Jasper Parrott from London, after having given such evidence, the said Jasper Parrott, at a public meeting of the said Guardians, directed their attention to the evidence given by him before such Committee; that the Poor Law Commissioners, acting upon such evidence, sanctioned the appointment of the said Mr. Lyle as medical officer for the parish of Buckfastleigh, and subsequently declined to give such sanction until they had received a reason for appointing the said Mr. Lyle, who resided nearly three miles from the town of Buckfastleigh, in preference to the Petitioner, but having been referred to the evidence of the said Jasper Parrott, so given before the said Committee, the Poor Law Commissioners acted upon such evidence, sanctioned the appointment of the said Mr. Lyle; that the Petitioner was at this time medical officer for the parishes of Dean Prior, Rattery and Staverton; and that shortly before the said Board of Guardians met for the purpose of electing medical officers for the Totnes Union, and they appointed other medical officers for the said parishes of Dean Prior, Rattery and Staverton, in lieu of the Petitioner, acting as the Petitioner very largely on the said evidence of the said Jasper Parrott, and in one instance upon his urgent solicitation; that some years ago, while the Petitioner was Medical Officer for the parish of Buckfastleigh, the Petitioner was informed, by one of the Guardians of that parish, that a report was circulated among the Guardians, at their weekly meeting, that the Petitioner had been exciting the poor against the Poor Laws; that such report was wholly untrue, and the Petitioner at the next meeting of the said Guardians voluntarily attended, and positively denied the truth of the said report, and no evidence whatever was produced in support of such report, but, on the contrary, the Petitioner believes that, from that period up to the time when the evidence of the said Jasper Parrott was given, the Petitioner enjoyed the full confidence of the successive Boards of Guardians of the said Totnes Union, having been always one of their medical officers; that the whole of the evidence of the said Jasper Parrott, before the said Committee, to the Petitioner, is false, and has no colour or foundation whatever, except in the facts mentioned by the Petitioner; and from the circumstantial manner in which such evidence is stated, the Petitioner verily believes that the same was wilfully false; that immediately Immediately after the publication of the evidence of the said Jasper Parrott, the Petitioner called the attention of the said Jasper Parrott to the said evidence, and requested to be informed whether it was correctly reported, or in words to that effect; and the answer was, none; and on the return of the answer, that afterwards the Petitioner applied personally to the said Board of Guardians for an investigation as to the truth of such evidence, but the said Board declined to interfere; that on the 10th of November last, the Petitioner addressed a letter to the Poor Law Commissioners, requesting that an inquiry might be made through an Assistant Commissioner into the truth of such evidence, and in reply thereto he received the following letter:

"15 St. Anne's. Poor Law Commission Office, Somerset House, 14th Nov. 1844.

"SIR,—I am directed by the Poor Law Commissioners to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of the 10th instant, in which you request that immediate inquiry may be made, through an Assistant Commissioner, into certain statements contained in the evidence given by Mr. Parrott, the Chairman of the Totnes Board of Guardians, before the Committee of the House of Commons, which sat last Session, on the subject of Medical Poor Relief. I am to inform you, in reply, that it is not part of the duty of the Commissioners to institute inquiries for the purpose of testing the accuracy of evidence given before a Committee of the House of Commons, except so far as such evidence may have a direct bearing on the administration of the Poor Laws, and on their own functions. The Commissioners cannot direct Mr. Tufnell to commence an investigation, with a view to refute certain charges made against you by Mr. Parrott, and having, as far as they can see, no connexion whatever with any alleged breach of your duty as medical officer for your present district.

"I am, Sir, your most obedient servant,

"Mr. David Philipps.

"Buckfastleigh, Totnes."

That on the 22d of November, the Petitioner addressed to every Guardian of the Totnes Union, a circular, of which the following is a copy; but the said Guardians instituted no proceeding thereupon:

"Buckfastleigh, November 22d, 1844.

"SIR,—Presuming that the evidence before the Committee of the House of Commons, in the last Session of Parliament, on the subject of Medical Poor Relief, has reached you, wherein your Chairman, Mr. Parrott, has grossly misstated the facts, I feel myself called upon immediately to refute the charges made against me; I respectfully invite an immediate and full investigation, that my character may remain unassailed, trusting on your honour that you will feel it your duty to examine into the charges made against me, and one of the most strenuous advocates of the Poor Law Amendment Act, who has, by his influence and otherwise, unceasingly (notwithstanding he has suffered reproach, and has endeavoured, by every possible means in his power, to appease the excited feelings of the poor, believing it to be of the greatest importance both to the peace of the community and the well working of the law.

"I am, Sir, your obedient servant,

"David Philipps."

That the Petitioner also forwarded a copy of such circular to Lord Ashley, the Chairman of the said Committee; that on the second of December 1844, your Petitioner addressed a second letter to the Poor Law Commissioners, reiterating his request for inquiry, to which the Poor Law Commissioners replied by referring him to their previous letter; that finding all his efforts to obtain an investigation into the truth of the charges made against him to be unavailing, the Petitioner caused an action for slander to be brought against the said Jasper Parrott, in respect of the evidence given before the said Committee; that the House having resolved, that the commencement such action was a breach of the Privileges of the House, the Petitioner, in obedience to the House, has desisted, and intends to desist, from proceeding in such action; that the unfounded charges contained in the evidence of the said Jasper Parrott against the Petitioner have not been established, and that the Petitioner has sustained, or that the House will give leave to the Petitioner to bring an action for the recovery of damages, or that the Petitioner may have such other relief as the House may in its wisdom think fit.

And the said Petitions were ordered to lie upon the Table; and to be printed.
